Negroes Riot Over Shooting In Florida

White-Owned Tampa Stores Sacked By Mob

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A mob of 400 Negroes, spurred to violence when a policeman shot a Negro youth, went on a rampage in two slum areas today. They beat whites and sacked and burned an entire block of white-owned stores.

At least 14 persons, including 10 whites, were injured. A deputy sheriff died of an apparent heart attack during the wild melee.

Armed with guns stolen from a smashed pawnshop, the Negroes exchanged shots with police, hurled bricks through automobile windows and went on a wild looting spree.

SMOKE CURLS OVER

At daybreak, the shooting had ceased and the fires had been extinguished. Smoke from fire-gutted buildings curled over a dingy areas of bars, liquor stores, pool halls and one-story business houses.

Deputy Chief A.H. Wainwright said the riot erupted in the middle of a muggy night at Nebraska Avenue and Twiggs Street when a 19-year-old youth, Martin Chambers, was shot and killed as he ran from a patrolman at the scene of a burglary.

The officer said he shot after spotting the youth and two others running from the scene of a burglary.

WORD OF SHOOTING

Robert Gilder, 36, president of the Tampa NAACP chapter, said word that the youth had been shot in the back spread rapidly through a Negro district he called a "ghetto first class."

"I thought it was the end," said Carl DeWitt of Tampa after he and his wife Joyce, drove unwittingly into a howling mob. "They were on us like vultures."

DeWitt, 41, and his wife, 36, were dragged from the car, savagely beaten and robbed.

When dawn broke, two big buildings lay in charred ruins. Broken glass and merchandise looted from stores littered the shabby streets. Police armed with pistols, shotguns, tear gas grenades and rifles with fixed bayonets stood about in groups, on the alert for more trouble.

Guilder, claiming that he could have prevented the riot if police had summoned him, dispatched War on Poverty Workers into a mile-square area sealed off by police.

Gov. Claude Kirk flew into the city in a jet plane, surveyed the riot scene and met with po-

Israel Premier Asks Direct Peace Talks With Arabs

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol said today "inactivity" by the United Nations had encouraged Arab aggression against Israel. He rejected a return to the old armistice agreements. He said he wants direct peace talks with the Arabs.

Eshkol's statement to the Israeli knesset (parliament) in Jerusalem amounted as a rejection in advance of any U.N. efforts to impose peace terms on Israel that would return the Middle East to the status that prevailed before Israel crushed Arab military power.

SAYS U.N. INACTIVE

Eshkol said the United Nations stood by when UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser imposed his blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba and he said the armistice agreements imposed on Israel by the U.N. in 1948 and 1956 allowed the Arabs to sharpen their swords to attack Israel. The U.N. did nothing about this, he said.

He said the Israeli victories in which Israel in six days wiped out most of the Arab air force and knocked out its armies as proof Israel was no longer bound by the old armistice agreements. Israel reported today it had captured 300 useable Egyptian tanks in addition to the 300 or more previously reported destroyed.

CEASEFIRE PLEDGE

Eshkol pledged to abide by the cease-fire if others did and he told the Arab world "Israel has fought only because you left us no choice."

The U.N. cease-fire was reported holding firm in the Middle East today despite a flurry of small scale firefights between Israeli soldiers and Arab holdouts who apparently had not heard the war was over. One group of Jordanians penetrated Israel and was wiped out.

The Soviet news agency Tass said an Israeli armored column supported by paratroopers dropped during the night and reached the Syrian town of Sheikh Miskin, 31 miles inside Syria. But Israel flatly denied what Tass called a major truce violation.

While the Israeli government turned to the dificult task of rehabilitating its new won

Budget Hearing Figure

County Auditor Michael Mitchell today estimated the 1968 fiscal year tax rate at $2.365 per $100 assessed valuation, up 7 cents from this year.

The figure was presented at a budget hearing of the board of supervisors.

It was then estimated that $323,610 would have to be pared from the budget to stabilize this year's tax rate of $2.295. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen vowed to accomplish this.

RAPS BRUCE

Melvin Rupp, general manager of the Marin County Taxpayers Association, criticized County Administrator Alan Bruce, who had earlier attempted to substantiate the fiscal 1968 budget by comparing it with expenditures of other counties.

"The whole approach is completely ridiculous," Rupp said. "The big items in the budget are not discussed and the people do not know what's going on."

Donald M. Van Dyke of 209 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, said Marin cannot be compared with other counties because it has 108 special districts. He said cuts could be made in capital expenditures and salaries.

Later, supervisors began consideration of the first departmental budget, that of planning.

Planning Director Paul C. Zucker asked for additional funds in several areas over the recommendations of Bruce.

CONFERENCE FUND

Zucker sought $1,600, as opposed to Bruce's recommendation of $1,000, to send his staff to conferences and conventions, claiming "county policy on conferences and conventions is out of date in relations to progressive communities."

The board utimately compromised at $1,250.

San Rafael engineer Arthur Lange criticized the large planning staff, which has 29 members. He said, "When I come to the Civic Center in the morning, I find that everybody's out for coffee. It seems to me 10 minutes is ample time for a break."

U.S. Middle East Policy Is Revealed

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (AP) — Presidential assistant Walt W. Rostow said today the way to achieve "dignity and stability" in the postwar Middle East is through a plan of regional cooperation similar to that which helped Europe after World War II.

He discussed what the Johnson Administration may have in mind for the Middle East, but omitted a sentence in his prepared text in which he said the area is "only now, hopefully emerging from a brief but violent conflict."

Rostow's address was delivered at the 167th commencement of Middlebury College.

"We would hope that out of the frustrations and tragedies of postwar Middle East history we might see emerge a new desire to achieve dignity and stability for all through regional cooperation," he said.

Rostow, President Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs, drove to Middlebury from Woodstock with Mrs. Johnson.

The First Lady came to receive an honorary doctor of letters degree at this liberal arts college of 1,400 students.

Mrs. Johnson was ending a four-day New England tour that took her to Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont.

Rostow said Asia has provided "the most dramatic emergence of a new regional spirit and policy."

He said "that future hinges on a conviction that we are serious" about seeing the war through in Vietnam.

The one region in the non-Communist world where "regional institutions and spirit have not yet begun to emerge" Rostow said, "is, of course, the Middle East."

Israel Hits Ship Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A magazine report that Israeli planes and PT boats may have deliberately attacked an American communications ship was branded malicious and untrue today by the Israeli Embassy.

Newsweek Magazine said some Washington officials believe the USS Liberty, a lightly armed communications ship, was attacked because Israel thought it had intercepted messages showing the Israelis started Jewish-Arab war.

A spokesman for the Israeli Embassy commented, "Such allegations are just malicious. Such stories are untrue and without foundation whatever. It was an unfortunate and tragic accident which occurred in an area where fierce land and air fighting took place in recent days."

Thirty-three members of the Liberty crew may have died in Thursday's attack about 15 miles off the Egyptian coast.

Newsweek said in its latest issue some top U.S. officials

Hippies Get Bouquet For Good Behavior

Teen-agers and flowerbedecked hippies, attending the weekend "Fantasy Fair" atop Mount Tamalpais, were handed bouquets for good behavior today by state park officials and law enforcement officers.

Except for minor isolated incidents and temporary traffic tie-ups, the two-day "happening" closed last night with few unusual happenings.

One young woman was seriously injured when run over by one of the special chartered buses. Two cars were stolen but recovered.

Chief Ranger T. F. Holmboe said at Tamalpais State Park headquarters today: "Everything went smoothly. The youngsters were quite content to do what they had come to do — listen to the music. I have no reports of malicious damage — just a couple of cases of people being careless, that's all."

Undersheriff Sidney Stinson said there were only a few incidents and gave credit to his officers, both in uniform and plainclothes.

"They did much to discourage any trouble before it started," said Stinson.

One deputy commented: "It couldn't have been better. We have a crowd like this at a football game the things would really start hopping."

Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol said duty officers had reported traffic arrangements worked out relatively well.

"We got the people up to the show and back again, although things were in a real mess

Mysterious Death In A Sleeping Bag

A 21-year-old hiker, camping with eight companions in the Pan Toll area of Mount Tamalpais to attend the music festival atop the mountain, was found dead yesterday morning under mysterious circumstances.

Colleagues of Terrence McGrath of San Francisco were unable to rouse him from his sleeping bag at 10:15 a.m. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital at 11:28 a.m., reported Deputy Coroner Keith Craig.

Craig said today an autopsy revealed death was not due to natural causes nor to an injury. He said the results of a toxocology report should be known "in a week or so."

Sheriff's Deputy Robert Gaddini said McGrath, a truck driver for the postoffice department, had hiked to the camp grounds and attended the festival Saturday.

McGrath reportedly entered his sleeping bag about 8:30 p.m. and immediately fell asleep. His companions reported he began snoring loudly and, as they were unable to rouse him, they decided to let him sleep on.

A friend, Brian O'Brian of San Francisco, told deputies he noticed McGath's face was distorted yesterday morning. Fellow campers attempted to revive him and Marin County Fire Department was called to administer oxygen.

Deputy Gaddini said nothing was found in the personal belongings of McGrath to indicate the cause of death.

Warehousemen Strike; Talks On Contract Fail

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Some 25,000 warehousemen struck early today when negotiations broke down after continuing past a midnight deadline.

The tieup affects distribution of a variety of merchandise from Bakersfield to the Oregon border, but some major concerns have their own contracts with the warehousemen and are not involved in the walkout.

Contract talks with distributors deadlocked on the primary issues of wages, health and welfare, conditions of work, hours and overtime and vacations.

Temperature Dips To 35 On Tam

The temperature dipped to 35 degrees this morning on Mount Tamalpais, it was reported by the weather keeper at Gardner Lookout.

The chilly figure was one degree above the national low of 34 degrees at Flagstaff, Ariz.

$3.5 Million Bond Issue Before Voters

Mill Valley School District voters will ballot tomorrow on a $3.5 million bond measure proposed by trustees to finance a "middle school" and improve existing schools.

Fifteen polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. The county elections department reported 10,758 voters registered in the district.

The measure would bond the district to the legal limit for five years to finance a "middle school" for 1,200 sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils in the Project 17 area. Architects estimated construction cost of the school at $1.8 million to $2 million.

Site planners for the project proposed the school be on the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. site below Enchanted Knolls, and trustees have suggested exchange of a portion of the district's 11.5-acre site in the area with the utility company.

The measure also would allow the district to replace most of the rented portable classrooms with permanent facilities. The portables now cost the district almost $50,000 a year.

"The bonds will not require an increase in the tax rate levied for building purposes," according to the bond argument mailed voters by trustees. "The proposed issue will simply replace bonds and loans now being retired," they said.

Trustees Joyce R. Gross and M. James Norton Jr. oppose the measure on the ground that it would be economically and educationally unsound to maintain all eight existing schools.

No ballot argument opposing the measure was submitted.

The last bond election in the district was for $550,000, which passed with 75 per cent approval in 1961.

Outcome of the election is expected to be available by 9:30 p.m. in the school district office, 26 Miller Avenue.

U.S. KNOCKS OUT MIGS AT AIRBASE

Weekend Raids Near Hanoi Leave 10 Jets Wrecked; Tally Now 115

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. pilots during the weekend destroyed or damaged 10 MIG jets on the ground at and near the Kep air base northeast of Hanoi, the U.S. Air Force reported today.

The claim brought the number of Red MIGs claimed destroyed or damaged in aerial dogfights or on the ground to about 115, or just about the size of the North Vietnamese air force in February 1965 when the United States began bombing North Vietnam.

SOVIET AID

U.S. officers say the Soviet Union is providing replacement planes to maintain Hanoi's air force at about 100 combat jets.

North Vietnamese ground fire brought down four U.S. planes over the weekend, raising the number of U.S. combat planes reported lost in the air war in North Vietnam to 581. Three of the crewmen were rescued and two were missing.

The Air Force said six MIG17s were destroyed or damaged on the ground Saturday during raids on antiaircraft sites around the Kep railroad yards 38 miles northeast of Hanoi.

AIR BASE RAID

The Communist jet interceptors were parked in protective revetments close to the antiaircraft sites and two miles north of the Kep jet air base. Then the air field was hit yesterday by U.S. Navy planes and pilots claimed two MIGs destroyed on the ground and two damaged or destroyed.

The raid was the eighth on the Kep base, which U.S. planes first attacked April 24.

Since the raids on Kep began, the Communists have dispersed the MIGs in extensive revetments away from the field.

One lone flight of MIG21s made a firing pass at the raiders Sunday but then fled. Military spokesmen say U.S. pilots have downed 77 MIGs in aerial dogfights and scored nine more probables. There is no official tabulation of MIGs destroyed on the ground but day-to-day claims total about 30 destroyed or damaged.

Other American planes raided the Uong Bi thermal power plant 14 miles northeast of Haiphong again and supply lines. Pilots who struck at the power plant claimed they scored direct hits on the plant's general hall and boiler house, touching off secondary explosions.

Military headquarters said 87 strike missions were flown over North Vietnam Sunday.

Returning pilots reported destroying or damaging a near-record 91 railroad cars on lines running from Hanoi to Red China.

There was scattered ground fighting in all the five provinces which make up the harried 1st Corps area adjoining North Vietnam. At least 119 North Vietnamese regulars were reported killed in scattered fights involving U.S. Marines, Korean marines and U.S. Army paratroops and infantrymen. U.S. losses were three dead and 65 wounded.

MARINES WOUNDED

The Communists today showered some 400 mortar and artillery shells and rockets on Marine and Army artillery positions just below the demilitarized zone. The Marines reported 47 wounded in the attacks.

Part of the fire came from big 140mm rockets and 122mm artillery pieces which the Communists have been using in increasing numbers.

Both Parties Will Go All Out To Capture The McAteer Seat

SACRAMENTO (AP)— Democrats and Republicans went to work today on California's most crucial partisan election since last November — a July 18 San Francisco contest that could give the GOP control of the State Senate.

Party leaders, meeting separately in Sacramento over the weekend, pledged money and campaign workers for the battle to replace the late Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, a Democrat who died last moth.

GOP EDGE?

The executive committee of the Republican State Central Committee was told GOP victory would give Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan an edge in at least one house of the legislature.

The Democratic majority in the upper house was trimmed to 20-19 by McAteer's death. A Republican victory could result in a 20-20 standoff, with GOP Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch casting the deciding vote in ties.

Democrats control the Assembly 42-38. Earlier this year, the GOP won an expected victory in a heavily Republican district, retaining the Assembly seat vacated by the death of Charles E. Chapel, R-Palos Verdes Estates.

CRUCIAL RACE

"This is the most single crucial race in the legislature that we have ever faced," California Democratic Council President Gerald Hill of San Francisco told a meeting of the executive committee of the Democratic State Central Committee. In November's Republican landslide, Democrats saw their legislative majority sharply trimmed, and now fear further GOP gains.

Democrats agreed to set up a special organization to work on the race after Hill warned that the Republicans may spend $250,000 to capture the seat in the heavily Democratic city. He said the Democrats should raise at least $100,000.

Republican State Chairman James Halley of San Francisco said the GOP is ready to put all of its weight in the race.

Both parties agreed to step into the San Francisco race immediately after the July 18 primary contest — and to begin raising money now. If none of the candidates receives a majority of the votes cast in the primary, a runoff is needed.

OTHER MATTERS

Party officials put all their efforts into "nuts and bolts" work of state politics during their meetings Saturday.

The Democrats either rejected or rewrote resolutions dealing with foreign policy controversy.

A resolution recommending terms for the Arab-Israel conflict — including internationalization of the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba — was turned down. Opponents said it was too detailed.

And a resolution defending the rights of Vietnam war dissenters to protest was sharply revised — with all reference to Vietnam eliminated.

Leo J. Giobetti of Merced said the mention of Vietnam was "kind of a left-handed swing at the national administration."

The only major action taken by the Republicans' executive committee was adoption of a resolution opposing creation of a presidential primary in California similar to the one in Oregon. A Democrat's bill installing the Oregon system in California is pending in the Senate.

In Oregon, the secretary of state simply puts the leading candidates on the ballot. California Republicans fear this would Republican Gov. Reagan's plans to eliminate primary battling by heading a favorite son presidential delegation.

Span Traffic Up For May

Golden Gate Bridge traffic rose in May to an average of 80,409 vehicles per day, bridge directors learned yesterday.

General Mgr. James Adam reported 2,492,678 cars, trucks and buses crossed the span last month, a gain of 4.1 per cent over May, 1966.

Housing Plan Report Hits At Builders

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A legislative report today bolstered the cause of those who want the Rumford open housing law to stress anti-bias action against private builders rather than individual homeowners.

This was the latest of many developments that apparently spell defeat for the real estate industry and others who have sought total elimination of the law in line with voter approval of Prop. 14 in 1964.

It came as the 1967 session stepped up its activity in the usual June scramble toward adjournment. But, as Assembly Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, commented, "we are not as far along as we should be, and time is running short."

He referred to the midnight June 30 deadline for signing a balanced budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. Failure to do so, experts say, would force the state to operate with "registered warrants" — the legal name for government IOU's and seriously damage its credit rating.

The $5.15 billion spending program passed the Assembly last week and is in the Senate now en route to the customary conference committee for final decision. The main problem is what type of tax program to finance it will be decided on among many bitterly wrangling parties, and whether it can be passed by July 1.

The conflict over revising the open housing law is centered in the Assembly, following Senate passage of a bill to repeal the Rumford act outright. The Assembly Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee has enough anti-repeal members to block that bill, so the opposing sides now are discussing what they hope will meet the usual legislative compromise test of the foes being able to "live with."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Russia Called Villian In Mideast

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty, Gov. Ronald Reagan and Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., took turns yesterday blaming the Soviet Union for the Middle East crisis.

Yorty

Murphy told the crowd it was Russia's "promise to deliver" which spurred the Arab forces, particularly President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, into the clash with Israel.

Reagan said "the real villian was not in battle . . . Having done his evil work he stood aside . . . Let us make sure no place is made at the bargaining table for the Russian Bear."

Co-sponsoring the rally were the Jewish Federation-Council of Greater Los Angeles and the Los Angeles Committees for State of Israel Bonds.

Among others attending were Frank Sinatra, Barbra Streisand, Dinah Shore and Joey Bishop.

More than 100 Arab-sympathizing picketers appeared outside but no incidents were reported.

Otter Worry

MORRO BAY (AP)—The once-rare sea otter has made a rarity of the once-plentiful abalone in the coastal waters of San Luis Obispo County.

Divers at Morro Bay report the otters—now protected from hunters by law—have devoured most of the red abalone—a delicious seafood—off the Monterey County coast, and are heading south.

The State Department of Fish and Game, though, has a plan. It is aiming at herding the otters out of the bay, if they can find a way to herd otters.

Just Too Heavy

OAKLAND (AP) — About 600 huge rolls of newsprint fell into 20 feet of water when the floor of a pier collapsed at the Port of Oakland yesterday. No one was injured.

Market Street Pier is 50 years old but a spokesman for the Port Authority said the collapse of the 50 by 50 foot section occurred because the newsprint rolls were stacked three high instead of the usual two-high.

Cranes were being used to lift the 1,600 pound rolls out of the estuary.

Fight To Death

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Carey Bridgers, 44, was shot and killed last night during a fight with his girlfriend's ex-husband.

Franklin Agee, 30, was booked on suspicion of murder.

Inspectors said Bridgers was shot in the head, chest and side. They said Agee used a .38 caliber pistol. Bridgers died shortly after the arrival of police.

In Moth Balls

LONG BEACH (AP) — After 22 years as a symbol of help to American servicemen, the USS Haven has been put in moth balls.

The Navy said yesterday it had towed the vessel from its berth at Long Beach Naval Station to Suisun Bay, north of San Francisco, after she was decommissioned.

Telescope Plans

BISHOP (AP)—A $20 million project to build the world's largest steerable radio telescope has been announced by the California Institute of Technology, Stanford University, the University of California and the University of Michigan.

Monsignor Leaving School For Church

After 17 years as director of St. Vincent's School for Boys near San Rafael, Msgr. Clement J. McKenna will leave Saturday to become pastor of St. Patrick's Church in San Francisco.

For the monsignor, who celebrates 30 years in the priesthood this year, it will be like returning home.

It was at St. Patrick's Church that he was assistant pastor before being transferred to St. Vincent's School in January, 1951.

St. Vincent's accommodates boys from the larger Northern California counties, who cannot live at home for a variety of reasons.

Msgr. McKenna said today: "In my 17 years here, I have lived through many radical changes in social conditions, particularly as they apply to children who cannot live at home. The school is successfully attempting to meet the growing needs of today."

His successor will be Rev. James P. Keane, who has been assistant director at the school since June, 1959.

Before going to St. Vincent's, Father Keane was a long-time teacher at Marin Catholic High School. His new assistant will be

San Rafael's New Park Is Dedicated

Folk dancing, band music, a treasure hunt and speeches by city and county officials marked the dedication Saturday of Santa Margarita Valley Park, newest addition to the San Rafael city park system.

City Councilman John M. Miskimen cut the ribbon to open the park and Marin County Supervisor John F. McInnis gave the keynote speech. A speech was also given by Charles Tacchi, chairman of the San Rafael Park and Recreation Commission.

The Troikens gave an exhibition of folk dancing and the National Anthem was played by the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District Non-Marching Band. Flag raising was by Boy Scout Troop 71, sponsored by St. Isabella's Roman Catholic Church of Terra Linda.

A treasure hunt and other games for children under 12 followed the dedication.

The new neighborhood park, at the end of De La Guerra Road, was designed by city park foreman Scott Tilden.

Five Visitors To Marin Hurt In Car Pile-Up

Five visitors to Marin County were injured in a four-car pile-up yesterday at 9:15 a.m. on Highway 101, South of Terra Linda, in which one car was destroyed by fire.

Involved were southbound cars driven by Harry Beverly Myer, 63, of San Jose; Stephen Lawing Turner, 26, of Berkeley; August Edward Nickel, 49, of San Francisco, and Robert Lyden Rutherford, 51, of Berkeley. California Highway Patrol reported the Myer and Turner cars had stopped for traffic when Rutherford's car struck the rear of the Nickel car, starting a chain-reaction crash.

Rutherford's car burst into flame and burned before it could be extinguished by a Marin County Fire Department crew.

Rutherford suffered bruises and rib fractures and was transferred to Alta Bates Hospital, Berkeley, after treatment at Marin General Hospital. Nickel was treated for a cut lip; his wife, Evelyn, for bruises on jaw and chest, and their son, Thomas for a sprained finger, all at Marin General Hospital. Myer's wife, Sophie, 60, said she would see her own doctor for minor injuries.

Club Report

Approximately 2,500 persons attended Mill Valley Optimist Club's annual "youth-o-rama" carnival Thursday through yesterday at Project 17, reported Roland Herbert, club president. The club netted almost $800, he said, for improvements to its ball park and for youth activities.

Driver Of Alleged Chase Car–Escapee

A 25-year-old bread truck driver, who suffered head injuries when the stolen car he was driving crashed into Fairfax Creek at 2:45 a.m., Saturday, was identified today as an escaped prisoner wanted by three East Bay law enforcement agencies.

Fairfax police tentatively identified the driver as Ardis Welder, 25, of San Francisco. But today, Alameda sheriff's deputies identified him as James Reece, wanted by Alameda county on robbery and burglary charges; by Hayward police on suspicion of robbery, kidnapping, assault with intent to kill and assault with a deadly weapon, and in Oakland on two escape warrants, each with $22,000 bail.

Fairfax police reported he was chasing a car driven by Carmilla Ettlinger, 22, of 31 Woodlane Avenue, better known under her stage name of Yvonne D'Angiers, when his car crashed through a dead-end street fence, traveled over the creek and turned.

Reece was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, suffering from head injuries and broken ribs.

FAIR CONDITION

Police said a warrant would be sought from the district attorney's office charging his with possession of stolen property and assault with a deadly weapon — the vehicle.

The cars were northbound on Creek Road, just past Porteous Avenue, when they came to the dean end, officers reported. The girl, who appears as a topless dancer in a San Francisco club, jammed on her brakes and skidded over the creek embankment. The man's car continued on over the creek.

A TOY GUN

Miss D'Angiers told police Reece followed her and halted her once by blocking the road with his car. At that time, he brandished what appeared to be a gun, she said. She sped off. The weapon turned out to be a toy gun, police said.

Officers found Reece's San Francisco address was a false one and were checking to see if he also gave a false name. The car he was driving was reported stolen from William M. Clark of Oakland last Monday. He told police he is a San Francisco bread truck driver.

SHIP

"will not be satisfied until fuller and more convincing explanations of the attack on a clearly marked ship in international waters are forthcoming."

"Although Israel's apologies were officially accepted, some high Washington officials believe the Israelis knew the Liberty's capabilities and suspect the attack might not have been accidental," it added.

Officials said earlier that the Israelis launched two separate attacks on the ship 20 minutes apart —the first by a flight of jet fighters and then torpedo attacks by at least three torpedo boats.

"One top level theory holds that someone in the Israeli armed forces ordered the Liberty sunk because he suspected it had taken down messages showing that Israel started the fighting (with its Arab neighbors," Newsweek said.

The Liberty, listing nine degrees to starboard, limped toward the Mediterranean island of Malta today. Officials expected to determine after it docked exactly how many Americans were killed when Israeli planes and torpedo boats attacked the lightly armed ship.

In addition to the 35 missing and believed dead, 75 sailors were wounded in the Israeli attack.

Hearings Closed On Schools' Plea

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill today closed hearings, but took no action on the county schools office's requests for permits to allow continuation of four special schools in residential zones.

Cordill said he had questions to ask on the applications, but the schools office was not represented at today's legal hearings. There was also no one appearing to protest.

The schools are at 71 Vendola Drive, 635 Adrian Way and 29 Washington Street in Santa Venetia, and 27 Meadow Drive in Alto.

lice, National Guard officers and Negro leaders.

Three weeks ago, Gilder said, he stopped a potential riot in the area by addressing a mob. But this time, "dammit, they didn't call me. I could have stopped this one, too."

DeWitt, a slender truck driver, said he was certain he would be killed. After he had been kicked, beaten and slugged by a gun barrel, he said one boy cried: "Shoot him!"

But another Negro suddenly yanked him to his feet, he went on, and told him to "Get the hell out."

Mrs. DeWitt said the Negroes also pulled her out of the car, ripped off her blouse, slip, bra and shoes and hit and kicked her. Then one of them pushed her back in the car and told her to pull out fast.

Carmichael Arrest Brings Battle

PRATTVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The arrest of Stokely Carmichael, black power advocate, touched off a gun battle yesterday between police and Negroes. National Guardsmen moved in early today with orders to shoot to kill if necessary to restore order.

The guardsmen and police raided a house involved in the gunfire and removed some 30 Negroes and a double-barreled shotgun. Several rounds of ammuntion were found in a car parked outside, Sheriff Phillip Wood said.

The troops and civilian officers, numbering more than 150, met no resistance when they moved in after a nightlong vigil.

Seven Negroes were taken into custody for questioning. The others were told to go home.

Wood said today 10 persons were arrested at a concrete-block house and were charged with inciting to riot. He said most gave out-of-town addresses and "many said they were with the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Police said Negroes barricaded inside the house had exchanged shots with city, county and state officers during the night while other shots were fired from a nearby wooded area.

The gun battle left three law enforcement officers injured slightly. Wood said a prison trusty handling dogs also was wounded slightly in the violence which came after Carmichael was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge.

Police Chief Obie Thompson said Carmichael threatened to kill one officer and told police he would "tear up this town."

Carmichael was in the county jail a mile away while the gun battle raged.

The sheriff said the 10 and Carmichael, former chairman of the SNCC, would appear today before Judge James Loftus of the County Court of Records. He said bond for the 11 probably would be set at the hearing.

The National Guard troops were ordered to Prattville after a gun battle of more than three hours between Negroes and police.

The gunfight erupted, Wood said, after Assistant Police Chief Kenneth Hill narrowly escaped injury from a bullet which tore through the window of his squad car as he drove through the Negro residential area.

The police chief said officers, with a search warrant, found a shotgun in a panel truck and another in an automobile parked at the church. He said the truck had the name Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee on it. Carmichael is a former chairman of SNCC.

When the police arrived, the chief continued, Carmichael told Hill: "Take that tin badge off and I'll take care of you myself."

Thompson quoted Carmichael as telling the officers, "We came here to tear this town up and we're going to tear it up." Carmichael was then placed under arrest and as he was led away, police said, shots were fired at them, and the long gun battle ensued.

Prattville, located 14 miles northwest of Montgomery, has been the target of sporadic racial demonstrations in the past two years.

Requiem Mass for August R. (Gus) Oliva, 76, father of Mrs. Louise Rosso of Larkspur, will be celebrated at 10:15 a.m. tomorrow at Sts. Peter and Paul Church, San Francisco.

Oliva, known as the "Unofficial Mayor of San Francisco" in the 1920s, died at a Greenbrae convalescent home Saturday.

He became a political power in San Francisco during the administrations of Mayors James A. Rolph and Angelo Rossi, but was unsuccessful in his own bids for office as mayor and supervisor.

Oliva also was known for his many contributions to charity, and in 1930 received a papal blessing from Pope Pius XI for his "deeds of benevolence."

Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Rosso; two brothers, Sylvio and Charles Oliva of San Francisco; three grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. Rosary will be recited at McAvoy-O'Hara Co., San Francisco, at 8 p.m. today.

WILLIAM ALDRICH

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids
And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H® — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress — Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection.

Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

NWP Petitions For Another Tunnel Delay

Northwestern Pacific Railroad has petitioned the California Public Utilities Commission for another extension of the deadline for reopening its Puerto Suello tunnel, to Oct. 31.

This is the fourth extension sought by NWP since the PUC laid down a deadline for reopening to end a long series of Interstate Commerce Commission hearings and court suits by the railroad in attempts for permission to abandon the tunnel and the San Rafael portion of its main line. The tunnel collapsed in a fire on July 22, 1961.

ORIGINAL DEADLINE

Original deadline for reopening was a year ago. The PUC subsequently extended the deadline to Dec. 31, 1966, to Feb. 28, and to June 30.

In its new application, NWP says that so far $2,086,010 has been spent excavating 1,140.5 feet of the 1,247.9 feet which required excavation work. This is more than double the $1 million cost estimated after the fire and tunnel collapse.

Workers in the tunnel have been faced with difficulties due to "terrific and unanticipated pressure that caused twisting and splitting of timbers," the application says.

HEAVY RAINFALL

Further, last winter's heavy rainfall "caused extreme and unexpected difficulties and pressures," it says.

"If no additional trouble is incurred or found, it is anticipated that the tunnel restoration . . . will be completed sometime about Sept. 30," says the company. It would then take about a month to lay rails and prepare the tunnel for use.

Sometime between Oct. 31 and the year's end, then, trains may again run to and from San Rafael over the NWP main line, the application indicates.

Bolinas Lagoon Zone Problems On Agenda

Marin County supervisors will revisit Bolinas Lagoon zoning problems, discuss again the issue of a county morgue and open bids, if any, on the county courthouse.

The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Developments along the shore of Bolinas Lagoon, now under an interim zoning freeze, will be discussed when John H. Campbell, architect for Muskrat Corp., shows a plan for residential development of 11 acres on the north shore, on property the county hopes to buy.

This discussion is set for 9:15 a.m.

At 10 a.m. supervisors will open whatever bids are submitted on the county courthouse in downtown San Rafael, offered at a $900,000 minimum. This was the price offered by Harry H. Heifetz last December. His offer was later withdrawn when supervisors voted to delay sale.

Discussion of the need for a morgue will probably come up about 11 a.m.

Other matters on tomorrow's agenda include appointment of a replacement for Claude Stoller on the county planning commission, debate over a $675 request from the city of Larkspur for costs incurred in demolishing arks and discussion of a street lighting project on White Hill.

Trustees To Study Budget

Kentfield School District Board will continue study of the district's budget for fiscal 1968 at 8 p.m. today at Wolfe Grade School.

The board may have a closed session to discuss "appointment, employment or dismissal of a certificated employee," according to Supt. Anthony G. Bacich.

Plans for a science classroom at Adaline E. Kent School will be discussed, and the board will consider continued participation in the county schools speech program.

GOP Slaps At Wire Tap Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican group says the Johnson administration's proposal to outlaw public and private wiretapping except in national security cases is "a dangerous threat to individual privacy and an unwise limitation on law enforcement officials."

The House Republican task force on crime endorsed instead a bill by Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, to prohibit wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping except by court-authorized police.

The task force chairman, Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., said "it is illogical to claim that electronic bugging equipment is effective for national security cases but ineffective in cases involving serious and organized crimes, which threaten our local, state and federal governments."

You know how bankers are. They take your money like they're doing you a favor. They cash your checks like nobody else in the world would trust you for 20 bucks. And when they give you a loan it's like they're parting with their last dollar, and for it, they want their pound of flesh. That's nonsense. Now Redwood National is going to prove it is. When we take your money we're going to do something for it. We'll cash your checks like you're a long, lost friend. We'll lend you money like your account depended on it. (Maybe it does!) We'll even remember your name, but we'll never forget you out in the lobby. What's more, for a $200 balance we'll give you a free checking account. For $100 or more in one of our growth bonds we'll guarantee you 5% for the next 10 years. So figure it out. You don't have to take that high horse stuff anymore. Saturday night. Last night, the sponsors got things sorted out and it ran quite smoothly," Parnow reported.

He said some people disregarded the warning they would not be allowed into the Mountain Theater unless they had boarded buses elsewhere.

"We had cases of youngsters driving their cars up there and we had to turn them back," he said.

Undersheriff Stinson estimated about 20,000 people attended yesterday's show — 5,000 more than anticipated. "Word got around Saturday that tickets were not being collected at the gate and people were just walking in," he said.

There were several casualties, one serious. Pamela Sherman, 20, of San Francisco fell beneath the right rear wheels of a empty bus at the Civic Center and suffered a fractured pelvis, chest and internal injuries.

She was listed in poor condition today at Marin General hospital. Witnesses told California Highway Patrol officers a crowd of youths were running alongside the bus before it stopped.

The Civic Center was one of the two locations where thousands of youngsters waited to be shuttled to the festival.

Miss Sherman was bumped and fell beneath the bus driven by Eskil Lee Refsland, 23, of Woodland, owned by Patchett's Bus and Transportation Co. of Newman.

Theresa Tinslay, 18, of Alameda, also fell and struck her left leg against the wheel of the bus, officers reported. She was treated at Marin General Hospital and sent home.

One open-air music lover came away Saturday minus a navy blue flight bag she told sheriff's deputies contained jewelry worth $2,500.

Susan Dancher, 21, of 18 Brookdale Avenue, San Rafael, said she left the bag in her car she parked at the festival. She said among the jewelry items were four gold rings, six silver rings and several pair of ear rings.

Two cars, a pair of wheels, a stereo player and a purse were reported stolen Saturday and yesterday from the temporary parking lot across from Tamalpais High School during the "Fantasy Fair."

Phillip A. Waggoner and Steve Goff of San Francisco reported their cars stolen Saturday. Waggoner's 1953 Chevrolet was found yesterday by sheriff's deputities on a fire trail above Marin City. It had been stripped of its radio, heater and wheels. Goff's 1955 Chevrolet was found yesterday near Marin City.

Yesterday, James M. Milirides of San Diego reported $3 stolen from a purse left in his locked car during the day. A window was forced, and the purse found near his car.

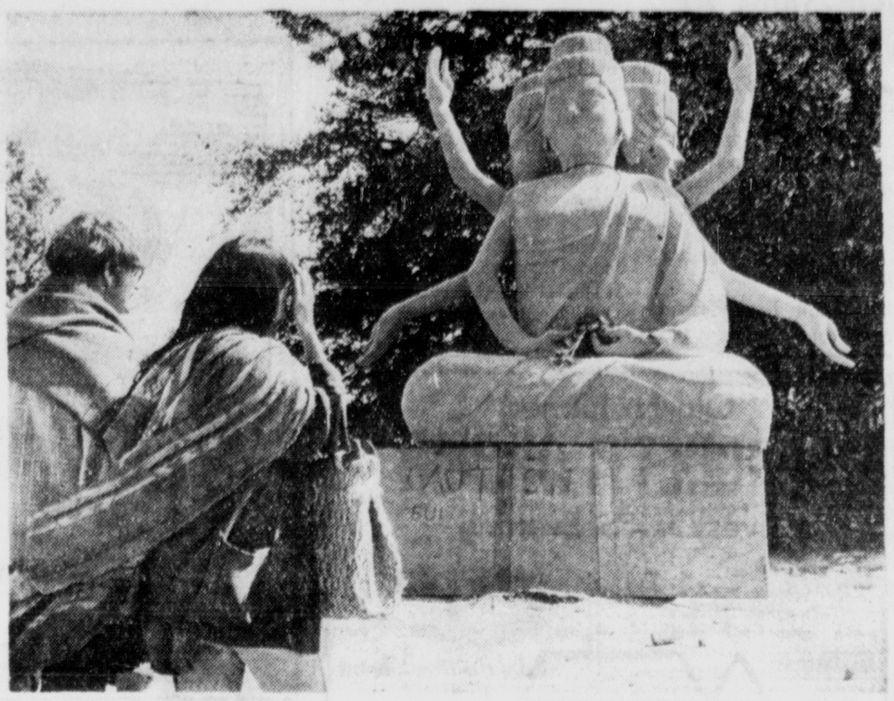
Dale Thomas Moore of Petaluma reported yesterday that two tires and magnesium wheels worth $150 had been stripped from his car while he was at the festival.

Theft of a $100 stereo player from his car was reported yesterday by Robert L. Klein of San Francisco. A wing window had been forced.

Proceeds form the "Fantasy Fair," sponsored by KFRC, were to go for child care centers at Hunters Point in San Francisco.

Cycle Is Stolen

Theft of his 1964 black and white Triumph motorcycle, North Carolina license 6579, was reported Saturday to police by Fred B. Hetzel, 87 Buena Vista Avenue, Mill Valley. It was taken Friday night from behind his garage, he said.



PAYING HOMAGE — Two visitors to the "Fantasy Fair" stand well back from a 40-foot Buddha, which was part of the decorations at the music festival. There was a threat it might blow over in the wind as it was made only of paper mache. (Independent-Journal photo)

Witnesses described the car which caused the damage as an old Plymouth station wagon, cream and blue.

Tiburon's Tram Called A Success

Tiburon's free tram, which ended a nine-day trial yesterday, was called a "demonstrable success" today by City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose.

Rose said he and Mayor John S. Hoffmire have had numerous phone calls encouraging continuance of the tram service, which picked up commuters from Strawberry, Belvedere and Tiburon each morning and evening, served shoppers downtown during the day, and took some extra afternoon trips to Strawberry.

Fourth of a series

Look into Ollie Stafford's eyes.

They read 2,616 words per minute. They do not skim. It all started at a free Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics Demonstration.

Ollie Stafford was an average reader. He poked along at a slow 292 words per minute. For most people who read that slowly—and most people do—it is a problem. For Ollie—it was a catastrophe.

Ollie Stafford is an insurance salesman. His job requires daily extensive reading of technical bulletins on tax and law, heavy correspondence, and stacks of miscellaneous reading material related to his work.

"Last June my back was against the wall," says Ollie. "I had to read and understand volumes of material and still spend eight hours a day in the field. I was swamped—and completely discouraged."

Although Ollie Stafford was highly skeptical, he attended a free Reading Dynamics demonstration. At the demonstration, Ollie saw a motion picture with impressive testimonials from men in high public office who had taken the course. He participated in a personal reading test, the results of which were known only to him. He was informed that the Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics Institute makes a firm GUARANTEE that its students will increase their reading efficiency at least three times. After an illustrated lecture, he joined the audience in asking candid questions about the techniques and rewards of Reading Dynamics.

At the free demonstration, Ollie discovered that thousands of Northern California students had enrolled in the Reading Dynamics course—in fact, more than twice the enrollment of Stanford University. He learned that the Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics course is the definitive rapid reading course in the world today.

Encouraged, but still pessimistic, Ollie enrolled. Step-by-step as the course progressed, Ollie found his eyes no longer reading word-by-word or even sentence-by-sentence. Instead, he visually lifted whole chunks of material from the printed page. As he began to master the Reading Dynamics techniques, Ollie's eyes would move rhythmically down the pages and through volumes of material at a greater speed than he ever imagined possible. His eyes did not skim—they left nothing out, indeed, his comprehension increased. Eight weeks later at the end of the course, Ollie Stafford's reading speed and comprehension was carefully measured. On difficult material, test results showed that he could read 2,616 words per minute—over eight times faster than his starting speed. On novels and other light reading, his rate was higher. Now he can read an average novel in thirty minutes with complete understanding and thorough enjoyment.

Look into Ollie Stafford's eyes. You will see a confidence and a sparkle that was not there before. Now look into yourself. Search yourself and decide if now is the time for you to attend a Reading Dynamics demonstration.

Mixed Marriages Upheld By Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today barred Virginia — and by implication other states — from making interracial marriage a crime.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, speaking for a unanimous court, said "the freedom to marry has long been recognized as one of the vital personal rights essential to the orderly pursuit of happiness by free men."

"To deny this fundamental freedom on so insupportable a basis as the racial classifications embodied in these statues, classifications so directly subversive to the principle of equality at the heart of the 14th Amendment, is surely to deprive all of the state's citizens of liberty without due process of law," Warren added.

While the decision dealt specifically with Virginia's miscegenation law, Warren's language was so sweeping that it left no doubt the similar laws in 15 other states must fall once they are brought under attack.

The Court acted on an appeal by Richard P. Loving, 33, a white construction worker, and his part-negro, part-Indian wife Mildred, 27.

They were convicted in 1959 in the Circuit Court of Caroline Caroline County of violating a Virginia law that made it a crime for a white and Negro to leave the state with the intent of being married and then returning to Virginia.

The Lovings had been married in the District of Columbia year earlier because they could not get a license in their native state. One-year sentences were suspended on condition they stay out of the state for 25 years.

Auto Stolen

A 1967 Chevrolet Belair hardtop, license CSX 867, was stolen between 12:45 and 2 a.m. Saturday from the 1500 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo, owner Richard Schinazi of 30 Sonoma Street, San Rafael, reported to police.

New York's Eavesdrop Policy Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York State law that permits police to eavesdrop when given a judge's permission was declared unconstitutional today by the Supreme Court.

The court divided 5 to 4 in holding that the language of the New York statute is too broad in its sweep, resulting in a trespassory intrusion into a constitutionally protected area.

Justice Tom C. Clark, on his final day on the high court, wrote the court's opinion.

Justices Hugo L. Black, John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Byron R. White dissented. They contended that electronic eavesdropping, as it is permitted by the statute, is not an unreasonable search and seizure.

Fairfax Council Sets Interviews

Fairfax City Council tonight will interview some of the 14 applicants for four vacancies on the city planning commission in closed session before the regular council meeting at 8 p.m. at the Fairfax Women's Club.

Three commissioners have resigned and a fourth, Mrs. Harold Taft will resign at the end of June.

The council will discuss an election date for a proposed $450,000 bond issue for new police, fire and city hall facilities. Also on the agenda is the county narcotics control bureau.

Humane Society Cares For Drifter's Horse

The Marin County Humane Society today was caring for the horse belonging to drifter Kent Grigg, and refused to release it until proper stabling can be found.

Herbert Martin, director of operations for the society, said the horse was picked up Wednesday from a privately owned stable in Mill Valley after the owner complained Grigg had two days to remove the horse, but did not.

Grigg told the Independent-Journal he gave the horse, a 9-year-old mare named Surprise, to two girls to care for last Monday when they found him ill in Corte Madera Town Park. They took the horse to a stable behind Edna Maguire School, Mill Valley, owned by James A. Howe of Mill Valley, Grigg said.

"I went to a friend's house in Mill Valley, and when the girls came and told me it had to be removed I went over there to get it, but it was gone," he said.

Grigg, who was last staying at the San Rafael Inn, said the Humane Society has no right to keep his horse, but that he had no stable for it.

The unemployed Grigg was in the news recently when the Highway Patrol and officials of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge ordered him off the bridge because pedestrians and animals are forbidden. A rancher with a horse trailer ultimately brought them to Marin.

Collegians Ready To Work For Poor

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are 6.5 million college students in America and more than half of them are interested in volunteering to live and work among the nation's poor, according to a survey by the Gallup Poll.

The survey results were released by the Office of Economic Opportunity, an antipoverty agency.

Taft Wanted Second Spot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who made three unsuccessful bids for the Republican presidential nomination, was willing to run for vice president with Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952, says Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif.

Murphy said yesterday he was in Eisenhower's convention headquarters in 1952 when word came that Taft would accept second place on the ticket. This was after Eisenhower had beaten Taft for the presidential nomination in a bitter convention battle.

"As it turned out, Gen. Eisenhower had already offered the proposition to Dick Nixon," Murphy said.

Taft died six months after Eisenhower took office.

FREES STUDENT

Study Now, Pay Later Education

By CAROL MARSH

A College of Marin psychology teacher has a plan which he feels would allow colleges to operate without tax funds while providing an education free from financial worries for all students.

Dikran J. Martin's plan, essentially, is that students would have all expenses paid by the college, including books and other materials, room and board. The student, after graduation, would repay the college with a set percentage of his gross income for a set period of time, "perhaps until retirement."

There would be no attempt to keep track of the college's expenses for each student, and the amount the student repaid would be fixed by his income, not by his actual debt to the college.

Martin also envisions greatly expanded college activities for graduates, to continue their education, to give them a source of social activity involving other college graduates, and to provide a powerful nucleus for community activity.

He said he is concerned about the social isolation in which graduates frequently find themselves on leaving the college community.

The best feature of the plan, Martin feels, is that the colleges would be supported by those who most directly benefit from them.

Martin agreed that the plan has many problems he has not yet solved.

One major problem would be the original source of money to get students through college, until repayments started to come in. Martin suggested this might come from private foundations, or even from the federal government, provided there were "absolutely no strings attached."

Another problem would be the decision about repayment from students who will not spend the rest of their lives working, such as women who marry. Martin said no student should be excluded from the program.

He said drop-outs would probably not incur any financial responsibility to the college, but he feels his plan would encourage the college toward a firmer commitment to see that each student completes his work for degree.

He feels that strong controls would have to be set up to insure that the college did not gain too much control over the personal lives of students while providing them with housing, food, and all financial needs.

A tax deduction for the student repayment could be an important feature of the plan, he said. As for the complications of collecting the revenue, he remarked that "nothing could be more complicated than our present tax system."

He plans to put the idea into written form, complete with the statistical and economic studies to support it, and present it to colleagues at the University of California Center for Research and Development in Higher Education, he said.

Public Works Hikes Approved By Committee

The finance committee of the Sausalito City Council Friday night approved a 5 per cent pay raise for most public works employees and creation of one new job.

The committee recommended a raise from $974 to $1,100 a month for the public works director, and a five per cent hike for all others except engineering draftsman, recommended for a 2½ per cent raise.

The committee recommended a public works budget totaling $156,677. The figure does not include capital improvements, which this year, for the first time, are budgeted separately.

The committee recommended creating a new position, equipment mechanic, at a salary range of $556 to $676 a month. The mechanic would maintain all city-owned vehicles.

The budget included $2,000 for buying street trees.

Beach Board Picks Walker Replacement

Ralph W. Sigmund of Sonoma Patio, Stinson Beach, was named today to the Stinson Beach County Water District Board to complete the term of director John Walker, who has resigned.

The board also adopted a 1967-68 budget of $4,285, just $25 above the present year's budget.

Opening lead — ♠ 6

When today's hand was played, South allowed East to win the first trick with the jack of spades.

East returned a spade to dummy's ace, and declarer very properly led a diamond from dummy to try a finesse with the queen.

Without a flicker, West played the deuce of diamonds instead of taking the trick with his king.

It would have been a misfortune to lose his only side entry before his spades were set up.

South was naive enough to believe that the finesse had succeeded.

Full of dreams of glory he led a club from his hand and tried a finesse with dummy's queen.

East won with the king of clubs and led his last spade to South's king.

DEFEATS CONTRACT

Now declarer tried to repeat the diamond finesse, but this time West was ready.

He took the king of diamonds and defeated the contract with two spades.

West's deceptive play was excellent, but South should make the contract.

After winning with the queen of diamonds he should continue with the ace of diamonds and then another diamond to force out the king.

South can later afford the club finesse.

Even if it loses, East will be out of spades and the contract is therefore in no danger.

If East has a fourth spade South would then lose only two spades and two kings.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one-notrump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ Q 10 7 6 2
♥ J 2
♦ K 9 2
♣ 8 5 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

Partner will usually pass, and you will make a comfortable part score.

If partner has good spades and 17 or 18 points he will raise to three spades, and you may then go on to game if you feel ambitious.

Gen. Walker's Libel Victory Thrown Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court threw out today a $500,000 libel judgment won by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker against The Associated Press.

All nine judges voted to set aside the judgment, won by Walker in a Fort Worth, Tex., state court in 1964. They entered four separate opinions to state their views.

In the controlling opinion, Justice John M. Harlan said there wasn't "the slightest hint of a severe departure from accepted publishing standards" in the way The Associated Press reported Walker's activities at the University of Mississippi campus at Oxford in 1962.

"We therefore conclude that Gen. Walker should not be entitled to damages from The Associated Press."

Riots sweep the Mississippi campus the night of Sept. 30, occasioned by the admission of a Negro, James Meredith, into the university. The AP reported Oct. 2 and 3 that Walker had "assumed command of the crowd" and had "led a charge of students against federal marshals."

Harlan said there was no evidence of "personal prejudice or incompetency" on the part of the AP's reporter, Van Savell, or The Associated Press.

Harlan noted that Walker had "denied categorically taking part in any charge against the federal marshals." However, Harlan also noted that Savell "was actually present during the events described and had reported them almost immediately to The Associated Press office in Atlanta."

The justice said "a discrepancy" was shown between an oral account given the office and a later written dispatch. But he said it related solely to whether Walker had spoken to a group of students on campus "before or after approaching the marshals."

Harlan referred to this as a "minor discrepancy" and said: "Negligence, it may have been; malice, it was not."

The nub of Harlan's opinion was that The Associated Press exercised a proper "degree of care" in its dispatches.

Court Backs Butts' Libel By Magazine

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court upheld today a $460,000 libel judgment won by Wallace Butts, former athletic director at the University of Georgia, against Curtis Publishing Co.

"Elementary precautions" were "ignored" by the Saturday Evening Post in its articles on the former athletic director, Justice John M. Harlan said in the court's main opinion.

Harlan said the evidence on preparation of the article "cast serious doubt on the adequancy of the investigation" underlying it.

Pueblo Park Is Dedicated

The Gallinas Village Community Service District park on Descanso Way was dedicated and given a name Saturday in ceremonies attended by more than 1,000 persons.

It will be called "Pueblo Park," a name selected by Elizabeth Myers, who won a $25 government bond in a park naming contest among pupils of the district. Second prize winner was Tina Fedorchak, who suggested "Little Venice," and third place went to Suzanne Levin, who proposed "Everybody's Yard."

Conviction Of Marchers Is Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the contempt of court convictions of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and seven other Negro leaders of desegregation demonstrations in Birmingham, Ala., in 1963.

Justice Potter Stewart, announced the court's 5-4 decision.

Chief Justic Earl Warren and Justices William O. Doupglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Abe Fortas dissented.

The case involved an attempt by the eight ministers to hold demonstration marches in Birmingham on Good Friday and Easter Sunday, 1963. If denied a permit for parading and picketing, they planned to proceed with the demonstrations. The city obtained a state court injunction and when the demonstrations were held arrested the Negro ministers.

Textile Plant Blazes Termed Major Disaster

ROSSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Officials of this small North Georgia town assessed the damage in dollars and jobs today after a huge fire destroyed four textile plants and severely damaged several others.

As workmen began the task of rebuilding, Mayor Paul Ellis termed the fire yesterday a major disaster. The damage was tentatively fixed at more than $15 million.

Bert Brown, president of the Rossville Development Co., which owns the complex, said all 2,400 persons employed in 15 textile mills would be affected by the fire. Of the number, some 1,400 work in the four plants which were total losses.

The fire was fed by exploding chemicals and miles of carpeting fabrics.

Motorists Stop Berkeley Man From Span Leap

Two quick-thinking motorists prevented a Berkeley man from jumping from the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday at 7:30 p.m.

As David Evan William, 20, of Berkeley, stopped his car midspan, ran for the railing and started to climb over, Frank Packard of 108 Caledonia Street, Sausalito, and a man identified as C. Rhymes of San Francisco both jumep out of their cars and ran to grab Williams off the rail. They held him until California Highway Patrol officers arrived.

Officer Douglas A. Scott said Williams appeared to be under the influence of some type of drug, and gave no reason for his attempt to jump. Williams was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

CONCERT REVIEW

Pianist, Cellist Rapport Is Perfect

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Pianist Grant Johannesen and cellist Zara Nelsova opened the Marin Music Chest's 34th season yesterday afternoon with an incandescent performance of the music of masters.

Johannesen has played in Music Chest concerts before — possibly the reason some 1,300 people went to Forest Meadows to hear the joint recital with his wife — their first in the Bay Area.

Actually a program of chamber music, since both instruments were equally important, it was successful in this large outdoor amphitheater because of the impressive authority and power of their playing.

Though the music itself for the most part was equally distinguished for both instruments, the emphasis for us was on the cello playing, since it was the greatest we have heard in a personal appearance by a major cellist of world renown.

Miss Nelsova's strength and power were reminiscent of Starker, her lyricism, of Casals.

The unusually brilliant ringing tone of the piano and an unfortunate high wind necessitated some adjustments in balance of sonority in the two instruments in the opening Beethoven Variations in E Flat on a theme from Mozart's "Magic Flute."

These were soon accomplished, and by the finale of the program, Rachmaninoff's Rhapsodic Sonata in G Minor, Opus 19, balance as well as rapport was perfect.

Another high point was Sonata No. 1 in E Minor, Opus 38, by Brahms, in which the vital, vibrant voice of the cello was especially outstanding in the first two movements. In the Fuga—allegro, however, thanks to Brahm's extraordinary brilliant writing for the piano, Johannesen's virtuosity was evident, thereby interfering somewhat with the balance of the total effect.

Debussy's "Sonate" was noteworthy for Miss Nelsova's strong handling of pizzicato and exceptional virtuosity in presto passages.

A perfect encore because of its light ,gay mood was the third movement from a sonata by Poulenc.

Lagunitas Artist Wins Top Prize

With his graphic "Space Watch," Fred L. Berensmeier of Lagunitas won the $100 best-in-show award in the competition for the 22nd annual Marin Art and Garden Fair's art and crafts show scheduled June 30 through July 4 in Ross.

Nearly 500 pieces were entered in competition and judges have selected less than 100 to be on display during the fair.

Gwen Stone of San Rafael won $100 for her watercolor "Improvisation No. II;" Barbara Williams of San Rafael, a similar prize for an oil called "Colorscape," and Andrea Henrick of San Rafael and M. M. Horton of Mill Valley collected merit awards for their pictures.

Ruenell Temps of Novato won a $50 prize and a merit award in the weaving and ceramics category; Farhad Moezzi of San Rafael, $50 for his art metal entry, and John Hammond of San Rafael, a merit award also for his entry in the art metal class. Edith Garland of San Rafael won a merit award for weaving.

This year's show, opened to Bay Area artists for the first time, was sponsored jointly by the fair and the Marin Society of Artists.

IT'S ART — "Green Shower" by James Dine, of oil-on-canvas, aluminum and junk, is one of the pop art pieces in "Art in the '60s" from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowan, on exhibit through July 2 at the San Francisco Museum of Art.

ART VIEW

Works Have Detachment From Any Sentimentality

By LAURA DEVENDORF

SAN FRANCISCO — "American Art of the '60s" is characterized by a fierce detachment from sentimental content. Of several reactions experienced at the San Francisco Museum of Art's sprawling June exhibit from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowan, this is the most poignant.

It is made aggressively clear from the moment you enter the first gallery. For all its high ceilings and vast area, the room is dwarfed by 20-foot, fuzzy, overlapping rainbows and bent, drooling bands of color on massive whites by Morris Louis, and the equally gigantic hard-edged bands, bullseyes and chevrons of related colors by Kenneth Noland.

Considered two modern-day masters of color, they are followed in the adjacent gallery by a third, Jules Olitski, a painter concerned with "mutually repulsive" rather than "mutually attractive" relations between hues which he explores through vivid arcs and dots.

The fourth painter covered in depth is Frank Stella, through seven works evolving his muted, equidstant graph-like bands into shaped canvasses which are heavy with geometric shapes and strong with color.

The fascination with shaped canvas is as much in the construction as the content. Stella, Noland and others employ it but the most impressive result is the angular-edged, convex-centered canvas by Charles Hinman.

Ron Davis, while also using this un-squared edge, combines it with still another '60s concept, optical painting. The Rowan collection shows several artists following this line.

And then there's pop. Remembering the uproar it so recently caused, it seems oddly passe, almost a curiosity among the stunning optical and shaped canvases.

Most pop names are there: James Rosenquist, Phillip Hefferton, Ed Ruscha, Jim Dine and Andy Warhol(including his can of Campbells' beef noodle soup). And though not considered strictly pop, Jasper Johns is represented with a very comprehensive collection of graphics which concern themselves with objects from flags to coat hangers.

Though Johns' work is delicate and sensitive, this is largely a result of the print medium itself and it could never be considered sentimental. In fact, satirical or caustic is as close as you could come to connecting emotionalism with any of these artists of the 60s.

This is no Love Generation and these 65 works from the Rowan collection (the largest, fastest-growing collection of mid-20th Century American art) cut an impressive swath through its upper ranks. The impression it leaves is definite. In art, this is an era that overwhelms you with its power and with its intellect but more than anything else, with its detachment.

Painting Display

Paintings by Mill Valley artist Viking Leon are on display Wednesdays through Sundays after 5 p.m. at Rubini's Restaurant in Fairfax.

'The Cage' To Be Presented

"The Cage," a one-act play written and performed by former San Quentin Prison inmates, will be presented June 18 and 25 at the University of California Extension Center, 55 Laguna Street, San Francisco.

Written by former inmate Rick Cluchey, the play was first performed at San Quentin by members of the inmate Drama Workshop and was later shown, in a shortened form, over KQED, Channel 9.

It is being presented this summer by UC Extension and the Seven Steps Foundation. Those taking part are Cluchey, Roussel De Lury, Ernie Allen, Ed Rand, Samuel King and Ken Mebs. Curtain time on June 18 is 3 p.m. and on June 25 is 8 p.m.

Church In Ignacio Exhibiting Photos

A photographic exhibit by advanced students from the College of Marin will continue at the new Church in Ignacio in the Pacheco Plaza Shopping Center to June 27.

The collection of more than 60 photographic prints represents a semester's work in experimental photographic techniques under instructor Thomas Johnson.

FULL STEAM AHEAD — Scott Nicoll of Sausalito boosts the power in his 14-foot steamboat he built. Crew members on the initial voyage Saturday were Carl and Richard Anderson of San Francisco. Their father, Roy Anderson, rendezvoused in his steamboat, Firedrake, to celebrate the event.

HUFFS AND PUFFS

Steamboat Fleet Gets New Member

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Sausalito's steamboat fleet gained a new member Saturday with the launching of the spanking new Mikahala, built in the workshop of a Sausalito home.

While Mikahala's builder, Scott Nicoll built up steam in the trailer-borne boat at Clipper yacht harbor, his wife, Maude, broke a christening glass of champagne over the bow. With shrieking whistle, the cocky-looking craft slid into Richardson Bay.

JAUNTY FLEET

The Mikahala thus joined a jaunty Sausalito fleet whose members are named Loretta, Firedrake, Fearless and Restless.

The Loretta is owned by A. J. Creighton, a San Anselmo boiler inspector; the Firedrake is owned by Roy Anderson Jr., a San Francisco high school teacher; the Fearless is owned by Frank Billings, San Francisco lumberman and the Restless is owned by James Edmiston, San Francisco high school teacher and Jefferson Parrish, Cupertino lawyer.

Though all four steamboat captains had expected to be at the launching, Anderson in his boat, Firedrake, was the only one to show.

Nicoll has worked two and one-half years on his boat in the workshop of his home at 10 San Carlos Avenue, Sausalito.

Nicoll bought unfinished the hull from the North Shore Boat Building Corp. at Marshall, modified and finished it.

He ordered the steam engine from Wood and Blackstaffe of Victoria, B.C., modified it, too, and installed it.

HOOKER EARLY

Nicoll was hooked on steam engines when, at 10 years of age in Hawaii, he built a domestic hot water boiler and set it in bricks and mud. It worked.

In high school he acquired machinery from two Stanley steamer automobiles.

Now a mechanical engineer, Nicoll works for Sarco Co. which sells steam traps and steam heating equipment in San Francisco. "I've been involved in steam matters all my life," he declared.

"I know the questions the people will ask," said the crisp, gray-haired man of 65:

"Do you carry a lot of water because it is a steam boat?"— "They all operate condensing. They have a condenser in which exhaust steam is turned back to water and reused.

"How fast do they go?" — "Steamboats are slow because they are displacement boats, pushing water out of the way, the fastest of these boats is about six knots.

FLEET SIZE

"What is the size?" — "The smallest of this fleet is that of Roy Anderson which is 14 feet long; the largest is the 32-foot Restless.

"What do they burn?" — "Generally solid fuel, everything from wood to coal and they have even tried walnut shells. Anderson's boat uses kerosene, my boat and Creighton's use diesel oil, the rest use solid fuel."

The 16-foot Mikahala, named after an Hawaiian inter-island steamer, flies Hawaiian and American flags. Its black smoke stack with a brass whistle is two and one-half feet tall, "just short enough to get through the garage." It carries four passengers, and four and one-half gallons of fuel oil, enabling it to run about five hours.

Most ships are still steam-run, Nicoll related, including atomic submarines. "As far as the atomic steam plants are concerned, the only thing changed is the boiler. If atomic energy becomes available for small installation, it is likely there will be a revival in interest in steam boats and cars."

Ross Graduation Set Wednesday

Graduation ceremonies for 54 Ross School eighth graders will be at 5 p.m. Wednesday at the school multi-purpose room.

Van Norden Logan will be geust speaker, and diplomas will be presented by Mrs. Marjorie McGee, president of the Ross School District Board. Supt. Robert D. Gowan will present the class.

Student speakers will be Margaret King and Mark Hodel, class history; Kathleen Trainor and Michael Grandin, class prophecy; Roger Hooper and Jean Severinghaus.

Marin Oaks Plan On Novato Agenda

Marin Oaks Development Co.'s tentative map for 75-lot Unit 5 of Marin Golf and Country Club estates will be considered by the Novato Planning Commission when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Robert Coman seeks a permit for two or more convalescent hospital buildings of 250 beds each on 11 acres on Tamalpais Avenue at Hill Road. Gloria Ladd wants to divide six and one-half acres into three lots on Vineyard Road at Sutro Avenue. Kenneth Niles ask architectural approval of plans for a food market at Center Road and Diablo Avenue. Joseph Pell seeks a permit and architectural approval for a service station at Novato Boulevard and Tamalpais Avenue.

Tam's Judicial Council Rules Election Valid

A constitutional crisis was resolved last week at Tamalpais High School when the student Judicial Council ruled that spirit elections held last Wednesday were valid.

Chris Lutz of Strawberry, leader of the New Blue Cheers, protested the yell leading election after his group was defeated by Charley Kahler, a last minute write-in candidate.

The controversy started immediately after the election assembly, where Student Body President Skipper Lacaze had given what was called a campaign speech for Charley while only introducing the other group. The "Cheers" also protested the form of the ballots, saying they were improper.

The student council called for a new election but was stopped by a restraining order from Judicial Chairman Steve Petrakis. In a closed session, the Judicial Council decided by a 4-3 vote that there was insufficient grounds for another election.

Next fall's song leaders were also elected. They will be Gerry Carter, Kitty Frankforter, Lynn MacCarthy, Liz Pryor, Chris Siefert, Chris Sheckler, and Chris White. Vicci Rider will be the alternate.

A junior varsity yell leading group led by Cricket Waldeck was also elected.

The Mercedes-Benz 250S —the $6500 car that's loaded with engineering instead of status.

The Mercedes-Benz 250S—so carefully built that painting alone takes 16 hours. Clip coupon for more facts.

The 250S is one $6500 car without an ounce of fat. In place of gaudy splendor, you get engineering advances—like 4-wheel disc brakes and fully independent suspension. Result: this taut machine runs circles around those $6500 dream boats. Read more about the Mercedes-Benz 250S—a refreshingly sane car.

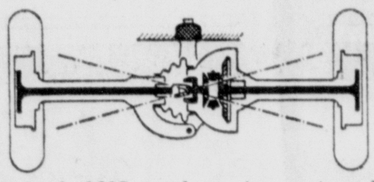
THE Mercedes-Benz 250S comes from a company where engineers still rule the roost. They aim to impress the driver, not the ego. You feel the difference on your first test run—and you'll keep feeling it for years.

About that $6500: It includes power steering and brakes, automatic transmission and many other amenities. You can buy a 250S without frills for as low as $5998*.

A driver's car

For your $6500, you get a car endowed with vast margins of performance in every category, from handling to cruising to braking. Safer, more relaxing, and a keen pleasure for those who simply like to drive. The 250S is one of the world's few passenger cars that pay as much attention to handling as to riding ease. The secret: all four wheels are separately suspended—a huge improvement over the solid rear axle system still found on most other $6500 cars.

If one rear wheel on the 250S hits a bump or dip, this ingenious rear axle pivots in the center. It rides with the jolts—both wheels stay firmly planted on the road.



Under the 250S: an advanced rear swing axle.

Car and Driver magazine reports on the uncanny adhesion of the 250S: "It is capable of sustained high speeds on any kind of surface —from the glossy new asphalt at Hockenheim racing circuit to a torturous little dirt road in upstate New York."

Historical note: Mercedes-Benz introduced fully independent, rear swing axle suspension on its passenger cars over 30 years ago. The solid rear axle hangs on today in every domestic passenger car but one.

Automatic leveling

Mercedes-Benz engineered an extra benefit into this suspension: a hydropneumatic load leveler. Add a heavy load to the trunk or rear seat—a self-adjusting unit at the rear axle automatically pumps up to keep the car riding level.

Incredible braking

Slamming on the brakes in the 250S draws the car to smooth, quick stops time after time. Its 4-wheel disc brakes virtually eliminate the menace of fading, pulling or rear-wheel lockup. And an ingenious brake power regulator is built into this system, for balanced front and rear braking forces.

Use of 14-inch tires allowed fitting of these bigger brakes. Tires play their part in the car's superb handling and stopping power, too.

And in safety: "The engineers knew how fast their car would go, and what kind of loads it might have to carry, and they specified original-equipment tires that would carry the maximum load at the maximum speed," Car and Driver reports.

Is 400-hp necessary?

Fitted up front in the 250S is one of the world's more efficient 6-cylinder engines.

It is no 400-hp fireball. But advanced single overhead camshaft design and virtual hand assembly let it purr along at 90 mph all day if asked (and if legal, of course). A 7-main-bearing crankshaft and meticulous balancing of all components keep noise and vibration to a subdued minimum.

Every 250S engine is bench tested before installation, for more than 60 minutes. Too much noise during this gruelling test and the engine is torn down and rebuilt. Mercedes-Benz finds the lemons—not you.

How to squelch rattles

"We were generally agreed that this was one of the tightest bodies we have ever tested," says Car and Driver. Some reasons: unit construction with welding at 10,000 points—and none of the rattles found in bolted-up bodies; 16 different gauges of sheet metal throughout the body, some up to one millimeter in thickness; rubber-mounted engine and running gear to damp out road rumble.

For future reference: Under two coats of enamel on this body are 24 pounds of primer. Under the primer, zinc caulking at vital points. And under the car itself, 24 pounds of permanent plasticized undercoating. Five years hence when the car still looks new, you'll know why.

Less is more

A measuring tape shows the 250S to be almost two feet shorter overall than domestic $6500 cars. But step inside: there's more headroom than a Lincoln, more rear seat hiproom than the newest Rolls-Royce, and plentiful space for five.

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $25,785* to $4,189*

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested retail prices* for 7 of the 15 Mercedes-Benz models:

600 Grand Mercedes	$25,785
300 SE Coupe	11,916
250SL Roadster	6,586
230S Sedan	5,018
230 Sedan	4,386
200 Diesel Sedan	4,418
200 Sedan	4,189

West Coast port of entry, exclusive of transportation charges, options, state and local taxes if any.*

Individual front seats are deeply contoured and firmly padded. They slide back and forth and recline without the need of complex electrical mechanisms. The driver can adjust seat height.

When you sit in back, you can see out front; the rear seat is placed so its occupants don't need to peer over the shoulders of those ahead.

Chrome trim on the 250S body sides isn't just ornamental. A raised rubber insert takes the brunt of parking lot scrapes. Similar inserts protect front and rear bumpers.

A word on safety

Mercedes-Benz has received widespread publicity about its safety engineering achievements over the past several years.

Work continues to make Mercedes-Benz cars even safer, both in avoiding trouble, and in protecting you if trouble occurs.

For sane drivers, Mercedes-Benz cars can help reduce the hazards of driving—without dulling its pleasures.

But however well engineered it may be, no car can entirely defend against the showoff, the drunkard, or the neurotic bent on self-destruction. Safety depends on you, too.

Ranch Setting For Bennett-Olson Rite

IN THE SUNNY MEADOW setting at Boss Ranch on Saturday morning, Kay Willie Olson and George Flitcher Bennett recited their wedding vows before the bridegroom's father, the Rev. Father W. Roy Bennett, at a wooden altar. A wooden crucifix of woven straw hangs from the tree at left. (UPI Telephoto)

The Boss Ranch in Novato was the setting for the wedding of Kay Willie Olson and George Henry Fletcher Bennett of Novato on Saturday.

They exchanged their wedding vows in a meadow as the Rev. Father W. Roy Bennett, father of the bridegroom, performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a full length gown of white peau de soie with braid trim. Mrs. Tor Olson, the bride's sister-in-law, served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Pat Zwillinger of Novato, Marion Siegel of San Francisco and Mrs. Pattie Collins of Mill Valley. Mrs. Olson wore a full length gown of striped organdy in graduating colors of red, yellow and blue. The bridesmaids all wore full-length gowns. Pat wore a tiger print with rope, Marian's gown was a bright pastel floral print with yellow trim and Mrs. Collins ware a gown of red, gray and brown anguler stripes. Flower girls were Kim Olson of Novato and Ginger and Roby Collins of Mill Valley. Ringbearer was Carl Collins of Mill Valley.

Tor Olson, brother of the bride, was best man, and ushers were Phil Hirsch of San Anselmo, Mike Aragon of Mill Valley and Pat Hunt and Rodney Moxie of Novato. All of the bridegroom's attendants with the exception of Rodney are members of "The Only Alternative and His Other Possibilities," a rock band.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Olson of Northfield, Ill., received her Bachelor of Music degree from the University of Illinois and attended Mozarteum in Salzburg, Austria. She is the singer with the rock band.

The bridegroom, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Bennett of Sacramento, recently moved to California from Maine, is the manager of the band.

He attended Benicia High School and Santa Rosa Junior College, and is the brother of G. Le Drew Bennett of Sacramento and Mrs. Mary Christie of Portland, and Mrs. Susan Wheeler of Baltimore.

A reception was held at the Boss Ranch following the wedding.

MATRON OF HONOR Mrs. Tor Olson joined the audience as the rock band music began. She wore an organdy gown in red, yellow and blue stripes.

THE BRIDE BECAME vocalist as the ushers, members of her husband's rock band, "The Only Alternative and His Other Possibilities" performed for the enjoyment of wedding guests.

WEDDING GUESTS brought blankets which they spread out near the barn where the rock music of "The Only Alternative" and Kay's vocalizing took place. Following the luncheon served picnic style, guests made use of the badminton court, rope swing, crouqet game and watched motorcycle racing.

SWING ON THE ROPE swing was one of the delights of flower girl, Roby Collins, to the amusement of guests who waited their turn.

'Be Sensible About Wedding Gifts'—

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Be sensible about wedding gifts, even though you are having a speedy wedding and plan to live in a furnished "meanwhile" house beacuse your fiance expects to be drafted.

That advice comes from a bride who was too busy to worry about wedding gifts, and discouraged offers. She could use them now, she says, and offers these tips to other brides-to-be:

. . . Make a decision when someone asks what you would like as a gift. If you don't get it now, you may never get it. People forget.

. . . Money isn't the bargain wedding gift you would think. A few hundred dollars doesn't last long. Friends are inclined to spend more on a gift if they know what you want. Tell them if they ask.

EVERY BRIDE dreams of silver, porcelain and crystal, but you won't need them in a meanwhile home, so wait until you settle down to get the glamor gifts. Ask for the necessities.

. . . Exchange duplicate wedding gifts or those you can't use now and don't be embarrassed about it. The giver expects you to make that decision.

. . . Make a list of absolute essentials needed in your meanwhile home and be prepared to pass it on to those who request it. Consider: sheets, pillow cases (doubles for laundry purposes) spread, pillows, blankets, washclothes, face towels, bath towels, kitchen towels, sauce pans, large and small frying pans, coffee pot, casserole dish, sugar bowl, pitcher, butter dish, knives, forks, spoons, plates, soup bowls, dessert dishes, cups, saucers, glasses, alarm clock, cleaning and cooking aids, mop, pail, broom.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Here's Some More Chewing Over On The Current Hippie Scene—

DEAR HELEN:

I am an open-minded cuss, and I've always thought Bohemians were fine and even somewhat productive — in Bohemia.

But these Hippies are something else! They're operating a gigantic "put-on" with the help of the press. If they weren't out after all the publicity they could get, how come television cameramen always show up at "be-ins," "love-ins" etc. before the crowd does? There are several species:

1. Hep hippies are "work-drop-outs" who have shrewdly turned their laziness into a money maker. They hook the tourists who flock to gawk at their weird communities, and each day they strive to make themselves look weirder, so that more tourists will flock.

2. "Hep-less" hippies, or camp followers, really believe what their leaders preach. Actually they're failures — unable to keep up with the world — so they live where failure is accepted and expected. The high-sounding business about "saving the world through love," and the "phoniness of the materialistic life," is their excuse for not having courage to face it. Between pot and acid, they've built up a lot of "love" — for drifting — not for people.

3. Week-end hippies, mostly teeny-boppers, window shop and sometimes get more than they bargained for. You'd call them "participating tourists," I guess. They're mocked — and used — and sometimes they run away from home to join Hippyland because they can't face the responsibility of growing up.

Hippies are different from the Bohemians that once made Greenwich Village alive — for Hippies don't produce much art, music, literature, they just exist. Without the build-up they've received from reporters, we'd call them by their rightful names — live-in hoboes. — CLOSE-IN OBSERVER

DEAR OBSERVER:

You hit it right on the nose when you said Hippies are work — and life — drop-outs who can't face responsibility. They'd rather be perpetual children, like Peter Pan.

. . . And come to think of it, Peter Pan was no doubt the original Hippy: he never grew up, he had hallucinations, and he flew out of the window on "trips."

The gigantic Hippy "put-on" makes fascinating reading — and here lies the danger: Too many reporters unwittingly depict Hippy life as one long Peter Pan adventure. So too many young people in search of excuses for failure, get lost in "Potville" and "Psychedelphia" because they still believe in fairy tales.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

One of my married brothers lives in the same block with out parents. His children are constantly at their house, eating, drinking pop, making messes and sometimes uproar. All this while the young parents are home relaxing.

My mother looks tired and worn, yet she'd never say anything — she's the type who would do anything for her family. The other married children say nothing, nor do I, but I'm sure we all feel our parents are being imposed upon. We keep our children away as much as possible because we know she is overworked with my brother's kids. This deprives them of those happy visits with Grandma and Grandpa that children love.

Should we all get together and say something — and to whom? — W.D.

DEAR W:

Most certainly you should tell your folks why the other grandchildren don't visit. They may be feeling snubbed, and wondering why.

Sometimes fond grandparents don't see impositions as others see them. If yours do, and are too "fond" to say so, a word about your mother's failing health might set this inconsiderate brother and sister-in-law straight.—H.

TREES MAKE WAY FOR STREET WIDENING

Cutting of large trees for widening Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Tunstead Avenue in San Anselma to a half block beyond Bolinas Avenue in Ross has brought protests from some residents. More than the nine trees cut in San Anselmo will be replaced, however, according to Public Works Secretary Thelma Foster. The scar seen here will become a paved street by Dec. 15. Debate Slated In Senate On Censuring Of Sen. Dodd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate debates this week whether to censure Sen. Thomas J. Dodd for alleged financial misconduct.

The Connecticut Democrat's only announced ally in fighting the censure resolution is Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., who contends the Senate ethics committee, which recommended censure, is making a scapegoat of Dodd.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said yesterday Dodd has a legitimate complaint in saying the Senate does not have an official code of ethics by which to judge him. Javits did not, however, say how he would vote.

Long plans to propose after the debate opens tomorrow that the Senate discard the censure resolution altogether and instead ask the ethics committee to draft an ethics code. He disclosed Saturday he has sent to all senators a legal brief contending the ethics committee's investigation of Dodd doesn't support its resolution.

The six-member committee—three Democrats and three Republicans—unanimously recommended censure.

Long intends to substitute for the censure resolution one commending the ethics committee for its efforts in the probe and its attempt "to promote high standards of ethics on the part of members of the Senate," as well as calling for the drafting of the code of ethics.

George Scherba Is Marin County Golf Champ

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

A 54-year-old retired Air Force master sergeant from Novato, spanking his opponents with a 32-year-old putter, won the first Marin County Golf Tournament of Champions yesterday on sunny but windswept Indian Valley golf course in Novato.

Equalling par 71 over the 6,140-yard course to win the county title was George Scherba, Silver Star winner of World War II. A five-foot put for a par — "It looked like a 20-footer to me," he laughed — on the 18th green gave Scherba a one-stroke victory over 48-year-old Milt Morley of the Marin Country Club who bogeyed the 18th with the aid of a gopher after a strong comeback on the back nine.

Scherba, who represented the host club after winning the Indian Valley club title four straight years, was presented a silver trophy, a smaller replica of the tournament's perpetual trophy donated by the Independent-Journal.

Scherba's 71 and Morley's 72 were followed by Don Lazzarini, 26-year-old Meadow Club champ, with a 76; Byron Eggleston of San Rafael, the Mill Valley Club titlist, 79; crippled Sid NuDelman of San Rafael's Peacock Gap club, 80, and Dr. Harold Itokazu of San Rafael, the 39-year-old San Geronimo National club representative, 84.

It was a stirring finish decided by Scherba's five-foot putt on the 18th after Morley came roaring back from a three-stroke deficit after 12 holes.

Milt, a diesel engine manufacturer who plays to a one-handicap, best in the six-man T of C field, was three pops behind the portly Scherba going to the 13th hole. The wily Morley, two-time Marin Club champ, was two under par on the back nine. He gained a stroke on the 145-yard, par three 13th with a par to Scherba's bogey and another stroke on the 365-yard, par four 15th with a bird on a fine approach shot, setting the stage for some dramatics down the homestretch.

Morley took the lead briefly on the 16th hole by canning a sensational 40-year chip shot for an eagle 3 but Scherba, the warehouse supervisor at Hamilton Air Force Base's commissary, tied it up by drilling in a 21-foot pressure putt for a birdie on the same hole.

Both parred the 153-yard, par three 17th hole, so it went right to the wire.

Scherba, a conservative player who makes hay around the greens, drove straight on the 18th as he had done all day. The long-hitting Morley received a stroke of luck when his powerful drive went right through a tree without touching a leaf, leaving him in good position for his second shot. Scherba's second shot was true, just five feet short of the green, but Milt made the biggest mistake of his golfing life on his second shot.

"Actually, it was one of my best iron shots of the day," said Morley. "I hit it exactly where I wanted to but I just misjudged the direction. I was 20 yards to the right. It was a great shot for nothing."

The blind shot on the dogleg hole landed on a gopher mound on a hill to the right of the green and Morley had an option to play it or take a free drop. He took the latter and the ball flipped over his shoulder into a deep patch of clover. He flubbed the wedge shot and that was the old ball game. Second guessers said he should have played it off the gopher mound. "I would have been a lot better off leaving it where it was," Milt admitted.

San Rafael Braves Win Three; Go Again Tonight

By GARY TISCHLER

It's baseball bonanza night at Albert Field when the San Rafael Braves tangle with the Bellingham, Wash., Bells in a Western Baseball Association semi-pro battle at 8 o'clock tonight.

All Little Leaguers and Pony Leaguers will be admitted free if accompanied by an adult. That's each boy, not each team.

Another aspect of the bonanza night are "Lucky Drawings" for prizes, which will be held between innings.

The kiddies may just be in time to sweep up the ragged remains of the Fallon, Nev., Copperkings' pitching staff, what's left of it.

Litchfield's Braves already celebrated their own bonanza weekend, by continuing the somewhat messy saga of the decline and fall of the Copperkings in a mighty barrage of hitting that resulted in a three-game sweep of Fallon.

The Copperkings thus joined the Arabs as one of the world's quickest losers.

GREAT DEBUT

The Braves made their grand debut Saturday, and no debutante ever looked prettier.

They started the decimation of the Copperkings with a 13-5 thumping Saturday, then came back to win, 5-2 in yesterday's doubleheader opener, and wound it up in abbreviated style, 16-4.

The three-game outburst totaled out to 32 hits for the Braves, including three homers. About 300 persons attended Saturday's opener, but yesterday's crowd was down to fewer than 100.

Despite the lopsided scores, the Braves had to come from behind in each game, trailing by three Saturday, two in yesterday's opener, and three again in the finale.

Fallon got off to a 5-2 start against ex-New York Met Bill Wakefield Saturday, then ran into Ben Burch.

The collision was fatal.

Burch, the former Marin Catholic ace, took over in the fourth, giving up just three singles the rest of the way, striking out eight, including six in a row at one stretch.

PANELLA HOMERS

Joe Panella powered a terrific home run over the right field fence, into the street and beyond, in the seventh.

Actually, Panella's shot was just frosting. The Braves had put it away with five runs in the fourth, sparked by Neil McNeven's base-loaded double. Forty-one-year-old third baseman Jess Jacinto, playing like half his age, went three-for-three, as did McNiven and Jerry Bosch.

Bob DeRosa, after some initial trouble in the first inning, in which he gave up two runs, shut out Fallon the rest of the way and won yesterday's first game on a five-hitter.

The Braves got the win with a four-run third inning with Ron Gasper's run-scoring double and Doug Wilson's two-run single doing the job.

The Copperkings again took a 2-0 lead in the final game against starter Ben Trujillo, ex-Houston Astro.

OVERCOME LEAD

And again, they blew it, in hurricane fashion.

The Braves sewed it up in the first inning, coming up with four runs of their own, three of them on a space-age Nick Willard homer over the left-field fence that kissed the clouds.

Fallon was still in it, going into the bottom of the third, trailing 4-3. Then everybody found out for sure that the best

Giants To Open Four-Game Series Tonight In Houston

HOUSTON (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants, explosive at the plate but hardly a power afield, move into the astrodome tonight for the opening of a four game series with Houston.

After using three home runs to subdue the Atlanta Braves, 7-4, on Saturday, the Giants bowed to the Braves in the tenth inning yesterday, 4-3. First baseman Jack Hiatt had teamed up with Willie Mays for back to back home runs in the sixth inning but was charged with his second miscue of the game in the tenth as Henry Aaron raced home from second base.

Juan Marichal dueled southpaw Denny Lemaster all the way and picked up his fifth loss against nine wins. Lemaster helped himself with a pair of hits and now is 7-1. His lone defeat has come against Los Angeles.

The Giants twice tied the score against Lemaster. First they squared it at 2-2 in the sixth when Hiatt belted his fourth homer of the season and Mays added his seventh. Hiatt's blow atoned for an error he had committed in the previous fame to set up a run.

Back to back doubles by clete Boyer and Denis Menke nudged the Braves back ahead in their half of the sixth but then Jim Davenport's sacrifice fly sent the game into the extra frame.

Aaron opened the tenth for the Braves with his fourth hit of the game and stole second for the third time. After Joe Torre popped out, Marichal intentionally walked Boyer to take a chance on Menke. The latter grounded to third baseman Jim Hart who fired the ball over to Hiatt. But the sphere got away from the young first baseman and Aaron raced in from second with the winner.

Marichal struck out 12 but allowed 10 hits.

Lindy McDaniel (1-2) is slated to start tonight against Houston's Larry Dierker (5-4). Gametime is 6 o'clock PDT.

Boros Thinking Of Past

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (UPI) —Julius Boros has had a lot of rest, a little practice—and now he's hoping history will repeat itself.

Boros became the first PGA golfer to win three titles on this year's tour when he shot a three-under-par 69 to wrap up the 10th annual $100,000 Buick Open yesterday.

Boros already had the Citrus Open and the Phoenix Open winnings in the bank.

His 69, after steady earlier rounds of 72, 72 and 70, put him in the winner's circle at the Buick Open for the second time in five years.

His closest competition was a trio which he left three strokes behind. Bert Yancey, of Tallahassee, Fla., R.H. Sikes, of Cleveland, and Bob Goalby, of Palm Springs, Calif., tied for second-place money with 286 totals for the 72-holes.

The first time Boros, now playing out of Mid Pines, N.C., won the Buick Open was in 1963 —when he set a tournament record with a 274 score. Two weeks later, he grabbed the U.S. Open title and he's hoping to do it again this year.

"I've had a lot of time off recently," Boros said, after pocketing the winner's check for $20,000. "I think I've rested five of the last seven weeks. I needed the practice, and I think it has done me a lot of good."

Boros will join the rest of the nation's top golfers for the U.S. Open this weekend at New Jersey's Baltusrol Country Club course.

The 47-year-old veteran shot ahead of the rest of the field on the first nine yesterday with three birdies, interrupted by a lone bogey, and added another birdie on the 14th hole.

Yancey tried to challenge him with a four-under-par 68, but the best he could do was a second-place tie.

Kermit Zarley, who started the final round in a first-place tie with Boros, slipped to a one-over-par 73, and took fifth-place money.

JOE DE MAESTRI of Novato has accepted an invitation to play in an Old Timers Game at New York's Shea Stadium July 8 featuring ex-Yankees and ex-Mets. Joe, now a Marin beer baron distributor, played for the Yanks in the early 1960s.

I ASKED the Meadow Club's Al Murray how he and partner Fred Hetzel, the Warrior star, fared in the recent invitational golf tournament.

"Not too good," Al growled. "Would you believe that Fred actually whiffed a PUTT? And on one par 3 hole our best ball was a 9, even though I cheated in the rough and made two Gallenkamp shots."

Just Look At Pat Paulson Today

The 1945 Tamalpais High School basketball squad had a lot of laughs, Coach George Gustafson recalls. "That little Pat Paulson was first stringer on the Class B team and he really had us creaming on bus trips to games. He was quite a comic."

The name may ring a bell to today's television fans or magazine readers. The same Pat Paulson is today a star on the Smothers Brothers TV show and is featured in the June 12 issue of Newsweek Magazine, page 84.

Gustafson recalls Paulson's teammates in 1945 were Art Ralston, Dick Shelton, Sherman Hall, Bob Grant, Bill Bawden, Clyde Jones and Pete Bann.

"Pat was a little character, but look at him today," says Gustafson.

Clippers 'Officially' In Oakland

OAKLAND (AP) — Now it's the Oakland Clippers instead of the California Clippers.

The name change was made official by spokesmen for the National Professional Soccer League team yesterday.

With the name change came word of the signing of a long term lease with the Oakland Coliseum, Inc., extending the contract—due to expire next year — for at least another three years and giving exclusive professional soccer rights at the 52,000 seat stadium to the club.

"This shows our faith in soccer, our faith in the community and faith in what we're doing," said Joseph O'Neill, co-owner of the Clippers.

Foyt Takes LeMans Title For His Slam

LE MANS, France (UPI)—A.J. Foyt scored a grand slam in auto racing and gave the tough, 24-hour Le Mans a real American flavor with the second half of his driving double.

Foyt, of Houston, Tex., won the Indianapolis 500 on May 30 and completed one of man's most gruelling tests with machines yesterday when he and Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., drove their Ford to a record triumph at this French auto racing capitol.

Ford, winning for the second straight year, broke the company and track record set last year by the New Zealand tandem of Bruce McLaren and Chris Amon.

Foyt and Gurney shattered the 5,000 kilometer barrier for the first time when they completed 3,107 miles in the allotted 24 hours. McLaren and Amon went 4,843 kilometers (3,009.3 miles) in 1966.

The winning U.S. combo took the lead early—about two hours after the race began Saturday and were never headed as their Ford crossed the finish line with a fantastic 135.705 miles per hour average that beat the nearest Ferrari competition by five laps.

The second place Ferrari, was driven by Lodovico Scarfiotti of Italy and Mike Parkes of England. Willy Mairesse and Jean Buerlys of Belgium were third, in another Ferrari.

Stanford Meets Houston In NCAA Baseball Opener

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) —Eight of the best college teams in the nation were set to open the 21st annual NCAA College World Series at Omaha's Rosenblatt Stadium today.

NO. 1-rated Stanford was pitted against 6th-ranked Houston in the first contest. The rest of the opening round pairings in the double elimination tournament found 2nd-ranked Auburn matched against defending champion Ohio State in the afternoon contest, Rider College of Trenton, N.J., against Boston College in the evening and Arizona State against Oklahoma State in the night contest.

The final college baseball poll this year had Ohio state 3rd in the country, Arizona state 4th, Rider 5th, Oklahoma State 12th, and Boston College 19th.

Sportswriters and college baseball publicists who have watched teams across the country since the start of the season, said six of the eight clubs have the potential to go all the way in the series.

They said that Oklahoma State and Boston College, while not boasting the over-all strength of the others, were deemed capable of springing some big surprises.

U.S. Upset; Soviets Win Cage Title

MONTEVIDEO, Brazil (AP) — The Soviet Union captured the World Basketball Championship last night, defeating Yugoslavia 71-59 after Brazil had eliminated the United States 80-71.

The Russians, Yugoslavia and the United States each carried a 4-1 record into the final night's action.

The Soviet team put on a powerful show, pulling away early and building a 33-26 halftime lead.

Darel Carrier of the Phillips 66ers, one of three Americans who fouled out, led the United States with 20 points.

The referees called 57 fouls, 34 of them against the United States. Police converged on the court early in the second half when an argument broke out between the Brazilian coach and one of the officials. The coach was thrown out of the game after missing the referee with a punch.

Machette Loses In Net Finals

Mike Machette of Belvedere lost to Steve Cornell of Oakland, 6-3, 6-1, in the senior boys finals the West Coast Junior Tennis Tournament in Sacramento yesterday.

Vicki Kiyomura of San Mateo defeated Ellen Chandler of Redwood City, 6-1, 6-0, to win the girls' 18-year-old title.

Marin Youngsters Star At Races

The McNulty brothers and Billy Ray Key were in starring roles at the quarter midets stock car races at Sacramento's Crackerjack race track yesterday.

Bill McNulty of San Rafael won all three senior main events with brother Pat finishing fourth in the 75-lapper won by Bill.

Key, of Novato, won a race and upped his classification all in one shot as he took the novice main event by lapping the field, pushing him into the junior stock ranks.

George Scherba Wins Marin Golfing Crown

Scherba, who plays to a three handicap (which meant nothing in this scratch tournament), sighed, "I was lucky."

His home course advantage was particularly noticable when Morley misplayed his second shot on the 18th, being unfamiliar with the Indian Valley layout. "But George was just too tough around the greens," the runnerup smiled.

Scherba and Morley played in a threesone with Dr. Itokazu, just behing the other trio.

BIRDIE

Morley birdied the first hole for a quick lead, but his putter betrayed him and he fell three strokes behing Scherba in the first nine holes. Milt three-putted the second and seventh holes while Scherba birdied the fifth hole with a five-foot putt.

That, along with other putts of 18 inches to offset Morley's 28-foot birdie shot on the 11th hole, and the 21-footer on the 16th, saved Scherba. He won the "lucky" putter at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, in 1935 during his 21½ years of military service. "I won it playing dice — ship, captain and crew — and not in golf," the champ of champs laughed.

Scherba's right hand is numb from an injury, but he managed to control his clubs beautifully.

The 46-year-old NuDelman, a furniture distributor, showed up looking like a Vietnam veteran. His right leg is in a cast — "I stepped in a hole last weekend" — and his right hand was bandaged to protect a painful boil. His caddy also locked his keys in NuDelman's car and the click of an I-J photographer's camera ruined one of his shots — so it was just not Sid's day. Other than that, everything was beautiful.

The tournament, first in what is to become an annual event involving the six Marin golf club champs, was witnessed by 76 persons and 13 cows.

BIFF BUFF

"You make it awfully hard to say no to a College of Marin athletic scholarship, Mr. Buff."

Prep Coaches Win Wacky Softball Tilt

The final score was 24-8.

No, it's not the 49er opener. That was the final outcome of an improbably, wacky slow-pitch softball game pitting Marin high school coaches against the Nave All-Starts, otherwise known as the VIPs in a battle sponsored by the Tamalpais Statudent Association to raise money for an Africa Project last Friday.

In case you're wondering, the All-Star VIP's lost under loud protest and in a whirl of bright costumes.

The costumes, with the Nave Brothers leading the way, ranged from Roman togas, to tuxedos to fish nets. The playing was a little fishy, too.

It was a nice game until the sixth inning when the coaches scored 10 runs.

Marin Catholic's mighty Gary Hughes blasted two home runs for the coaches while Tamalpais football coach Willie Hector also whacked a homer.

For the All-Stars, Bill Nave, trying to stretch a double into a home run passed out in champagne alley, between third and home.

Drake basketball coach Carl Brown played a dual role, as he did duty for both teams. He also turned in a protest because the coaches were using a hard ball instead of the 16-inch fat ball. This was not discovered until after the fatal sixth.

Here's how a typical play went in that inning. A coach hit a sharp ground ball to third. The third baseman fell and threw into centerfield while falling. The centerfielder threw it to third. Meanwhile, the left fielder had come in to cover third for the fallen third baseman. The third sacker got up, ran into the left-fielder as both muffed the relay throw.

In a preliminary game, the Tamalpais High school newspaper staff whipped the Redwood High newspaper staff, 24-16.

Sohner Treemen Split Twin Bill

Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo divided a softball doubleheader with Two-Rock Army of Petaluma on the Army field.

The Treemen grabbed an 8-3 verdict in the opener but lost a 5-4 decision in the nightcap.

Gary Swarm, making only his second start since being shelved with tendonitis in his pitching arm several weeks ago, was the first game winner. Jess Munyon, who relieved Rolly Piper in the fourth inning, was the losing Sohner hurler in the second game.

Sohner snapped out of the hitting doldrums which have plagued the team in recent weeks with a lusty exhibition of extra base power. Swarm blasted two homers and a triple, Munyon had a home run, and Nolan Wilson collected a triple and a double.

Hydroplane To Be Rebuilt After Taking Another Life

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Two fine drivers have died at her wheel in two years of unlimited hydroplane racing but the "Miss Budweiser" will be rebuilt and race again.

"I think Bill Brow would have wanted it that way," said the boat's owner, Bernie Little of Tampa. "We're going to be professionals about it."

Brow, 41, of Seattle, Wash., was riding the thundering hydroplane across Tampa Bay yesterday at more than 150 miles an hour — out in front, as usual.

Among the 10,000 fans on shore were his mother, brother and sister. For the first time in Brow's nine-year racing career his wife had stayed home. Their 18-year-old daughter, Becky, was graduating from high school.

The boat roared into the smooth backstretch and apparently hit a swell, a wake rolling back from one of 200 moored spectator boats, or something in the water. No one is certain.

Three tons of boat, engine and man tipped up on its right side and disappeared in a wall of white water.

A Coast Guard ehlicopter pulled Brow from the water. He was unconscious and was given mouth-to-mouth resuscitation as the chopper rushed him to St. Joseph's Hospital.

At 2 p.m. Dr. Dave Worthington turned from Brow's broken body and said, "He probably never had a chance."

Brow already had his second chances. In 1959 Brow survived a similar accident in Lake Couer d'Alene, Idaho. One year ago, also in the first lap of the Tampa Suncoast Regatta, Brow fractured his shoulder.

So Don Wilson of West Palm Beach, Fla., substituted for Brow at Miss Budweiser's throttle in the President's Cup race in Washington, D.C.

A bost driven by Rex Manchester, also of Seattle, collided with Miss Bud killing both drivers. Ron Musson, also of Seattle, was killed in the same race and Chuck Thompson of Detroit died two weeks later in the Gold Cup race on the Detroit River.

Brow's death was the fifth in the last nine unlimited hydro races.

Brow's brother, Don, himself a former hydro pilot, said at the hospital, "I guess you'd just have to say it's one of those things.' '

When Brow's Miss Budweiser tangled with water it couldn't ride over, Brow had just raced past Miss Madison driven by Ed O'Halloran of Mount Clemens, Mich. O'Halloran won the heat.

Over-all winner in the $25,000 race was Bill Schumacher of Seattle driving Miss Bardahl. His average speed was 96.914 m.p.h.

O'Halloran was second in Miss Madison at 89.256 m.p.h.; Warner Gardner of Bay City, Mich., was third in Miss Lapeer at 85.659 m.p.h.

San Rafael Braves' Big Night On Tap

things in Nevada are crap-shooters and topless showgirls, not pitchers.

San Rafael stayed in the batter's box for what seemed like hours scoring 11 runs on just four hits off a pair of Fallon pitchers. The shot that cleared the air clean was another homer, this one with the sacks full, by former Terra Linda star Jeff Brody, also over the left field fence.

With the Braves holding a 16-4 lead, the game lasted only four and one-half innings, because of the league's 10-run rule.

Blue Chips Leading Market Advances

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today with blue chips and glamor issues leading the advance.

Gains out-numbered losses by about two to one. Trading was active.

The rise started slowly but gathered strength as it went along, pausing for some profit taking in the afternoon.

Here was the picture near the close:

Both blue chips and glamor issues carried out some good gains as the financial community settled down to fairly tranquil conditions, now that the Israeli-Arab confrontation was out of the crisis stage.

Some analysts envisioned a summer rally ahead.

American Motors was the most active stock, rising nearly a point. Also active, Avco, Varian Associates and Gulf & Western rose 2 points or more while Milwaukee Railroad, U.S. Industries and Swift & Co. gained a point and more.

Itek sank about 4 points in a wave of selling.

A 2-point gain by Du Pont more than offset uneasiness in General Motors. American Smelting and International Nickel also gained about 2 each.

MGM and Polaroid tacked on 3 each while New York Central rose nearly 3 and its merger partner, Pennsylvania Railroad, rose well over 2.

American and Eastern Airlines dropped a point each.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

The flicker is a New World woodpecker which, unlike other woodpeckers, hunts its food on the ground, says Collier's Encyclopedia.

SAFETY DEVICE FOR APOLLO

A technician at Picker X-Ray Corp.'s Cleveland plant inserts a 400,000-volt X-ray tube in the oil-filled head of a giant machine that will be used to X-ray Apollo spacecraft parts for hidden defects. The machine is designed to "see through" materials and other machines as well as human beings.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Sacrifice Future For Needed Income

By ROGER E. SPEAR

"I am in my 70s, living on Social Security and dividends, and finding it harder and harder to get along. I will have to change these investments or sell them little by little. My list is enclosed. Please advise me." E. B.

A. I am truly distressed at the number of older readers who find the value of their savings diminishing through rising costs. To increase your income, you will have to switch some of your best stocks to provide better growth.

Solely to meet your expenses, I advise you to switch your IBM into Borg-Warner, which would increase your income by $180 a year. For the same reason, I would sell General Dynamics, yielding 1.6 per cent, and replace it with Chicago Pneumatic Tool, offering a 5 per cent return.

Q. "I am losing a rental property by eminent domain. I don't want to go back into that type of investment. Is there any other way I can get a secure 6 per cent on my money?" G.S.

A. It will be difficult under present conditions, but I believe you can come closest to it with good bonds. I suggest Texas Electric Service 1st 6¹ss of 1997 selling on a 5.87 per cent basis; New Orleans Public Service 1st 5²ss of 1997, offering a 5.92 return; Dana Corp. debentures 6's of 1991 to yield 5.85; and Liggett & Myers debentures 6's of 1992, on a 5.87 basis. These are all rated A or better and offer some call protection.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Two Marin Tire Dealers Are Expanding Businesses

Wheels are turning for two Marin tire dealers.

Triple SSS Auto Service Centers has opened a second San Rafael service center at the Mobil gas station ah the Second and Fourth Streets junction of the Miracle Mile. Richard Oswald is in charge. Hours are from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

Triple SSS handles Kelly-Springfield and Road King, along with recapping, front end service, brakes, mufflers and batteries. Mobilgas and its allied services will continue here. Donald Dove, formerly of Monterey, is in charge of the latter operation.

This is Triple SSS' fourth location. Besides the two in San Rafael others are in Richmond and Fairfield. Hal Sagar, with the company since its early days, has recently been made a vice president.

BRANDON TIRE SUPPLY, San Rafael outlet for B. F. Goodrich tires, has been moving from its location of six years or more at 626 Lindaro Street to its newly constructed building at 773 Lincoln Avenue since the middle of last week.

It was expected that the entire moving operation would be completed over the weekend, leaving the company in a position to open for business at 723 Lincoln this morning.

The 9,200-square-foot structure is fitted out with four new lifts and the latest equipment for capping tires, battery and brake service and wheel alignment. There is ample offstreet parking.

PBX ANSWERING SERVICE, San Rafael, has been sold by Mrs. Albert Damas (who bought it about six months ago) to Mrs. Terry Hopp, owner of the Novato Answering Service. The sale was handled by Mervyn E. Attell of Gallagher-Sturiale Realty. Mrs. Hopp will add secretarial work to the San Rafael business services.

MRS. KATHLEEN McCLIMENT of Sausalito, and instructor in the adult education section at College of Marin for 12 years prior to her retirement last June, is giving a complete secretarial course this summer at her business services offices, 3030 Bridgeway, Sausalito. Classes are from June 19 to Aug. 25 from 1 to 4 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays. They cover shorthand and transcription, business English, dictaphone, mimeographing, formatting and "all tricks of the trade."

ROSS ATTORNEY Sol A. Abrams has moved his law offices from 400 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, to the Cheda Building, 1029 Fourth Street, San Rafael. A resident of Marin for 14 years, he was formerly assistant United States attorney for the northern district of California.

Relfe Schmidt-Petersen

ARTHUR W. RELFE of Kentfield has been promoted to assistant vice president, loan supervision department, at Wells Fargo Bank's Metropolitan Division. He joined the bank in 1946 at Alameda and has served as an assistant manager in Stockton and as manager (1962) in San Anselmo. For the last two years he has been an assistant secretary in San Francisco.

GERHARD U. SCHMIDT-PETERSEN of Santa Venetia has been appointed assistant cashier and assistant manager of the international banking division at San Francisco headquarters of First Western Bank. A banker for 12 years, he has served in other administrative posts for First Western. Previously he was with the Deutsche-Sudamerikanische AG of Hamburg, Germany.

SCHEDULED FOR AN OPENING this summer — it may not be until August — is a new San Rafael branch outlet of Automatic Rain Co., headquartered in Menlo Park.

Owner Robert A. Bradford has the Northern California franchise for Rain Bird garden and lawn sprinkler, parts and turf supplies, and will open at 63 Larkspur Street. Automatic Rain will occupy about one-third of a new 3,000-square foot building; the rest will be leased out. This will be the company's third outlet — another is located in Walnut Creek.

The festival of Whitsun, of Pentecost, falls on the seventh Sunday after Easter. The English celebrate Whitmonday with games, sports, dancing, alequaffing and general springtime raveiry.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

22 EDITORIAL PAGE Monday, June 12, 1967 San Rafael, Calif.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Here's The Squabble Over 100% Assessment

Sacramento County's new woman assessor wants to assess all property at 100 per cent of market value, as provided in the state constitution.

Her proposal is getting so much headline mileage, largely because the call for assessing "at 100 per cent of market value" somehow seems to imply that those counties which use 20 to 25 per cent of market value are not doing the job properly.

Counties like Marin, which has been assessing at about 23 per cent of market value, are in effect assessing on the basis of full market value. The only difference is that in computing the taxes, the assessor is merely using a reduced scale.

It might be compared to reducing the size of a map so that one mile is represented by one-fourth of an inch instead of one inch. Because of reduced size, the map is easier to handle, and results obtained from the reduced map should be no different from results obtained from the original.

Take a $40,000 home in Marin. Assume that the assessor uses 25 per cent as the basis for assessment. The home then would be assessed at $10,000. If the tax rate is $4 per $100, then the homeowner would pay $400 taxes. This $400 is used to run county government.

A 100 per cent assessment on this home would be just as workable, if the tax rate is reduced proportionately.

For example, take the same $40,000 home. Assess it at the full $40,000. Now, if we kept the same $4 tax rate, the homeowner would pay a tax of $1,600. Since only $400 tax from this home is needed to run county government, the tax rate should be lowered — in this case to $1 per $100. Lowering the tax rate (to one-fourth) to offset the four-fold increase in assessment results in the same tax.

Then, what's all this hue and cry about the woman assessor's insistence on using 100 per cent assessment?

County assessors who are using 20 to 25 per cent assessment are not opposed to 100 per cent assessment as such. What they fear is that the various taxing districts will not lower their tax rates to offset the increase in property assessment (to 100 per cent of market value.)

Take the same $40,000 home currently assessed at $10,000, with a tax rate of $4. The assessors could easily go along with the full $40,000 (100 per cent) assessment, if they have assurance that the tax rate will be lowered to $1 by the taxing districts. But there is no such assurance. It would be too easy for county government, cities, or special taxing districts to keep the same tax rate, and quadruple revenues by applying the $4 rate on the full $40,000 assessed value.

We see nothing wrong with assessment at "100 per cent of full market value," just so the tax rate is lowered accordingly. But until there is assurance that the tax rate will be reduced proportionately, a sudden imposition of assessment at 100 per cent of market value would result in complete chaos.

June—The Favorite

June is just about everybody's favorite month. We suspect it has something to do with childhood memories of summer vacation. There is a minute dose of nostalgia in even the toughest of us.

June is the culmination of spring. The time when many of the seeds we planted in February and March reach fruition as vegetables and flowers.

June is the year, young and vital. Clean, green and growing. June is fog on Mount Tamalpais and warm, sunny afternoons.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Manufacturers Will Fight Any Increase Of The Inventory Tax

By HENRY C. MarARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — California's business and industrial climate appears to be worsening from day to day as the Legislature considers piling bigger and better taxes on productive enterprise, without due consideration of the economic forces which in ultimate analysis, constitute the difference between a prosperous people and a state struggling to maintain its standard of living.

One vital item in the many being proposed for tax increases involves the inventory tax.

ALTHOUGH BUSINESS and industrial interests for a good many years have pointed out this local assessment of goods on hand and subsequent taxation as a detriment to trade, and discriminatory in nature, the legislature has done nothing to ease the burden on what affects the entire business community.

As a result, the executive committee of the California Manufacturers Association, which represents virtually all of the major manufacturing interests in California, officially has gone on record as opposing the inventory tax.

This was announced by William Fellows, of Los Angeles, chairman of the executive committee, who said the organization is solidly behind the move to eliminate the inventory tax, and indicated the association will move to accomplish this objective as soon as possible.

ONE OF THE moves, he said, will be a conference with Gov. Ronald Reagan to press the Association's position. The governor's tax measure, being handled in the state Senate by Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, and which is designed to raise nearly a billion dollars in new revenue, does not provide for repeal of the inventory tax, although some of his previous statements have favored the repeal in principle.

Obviously, Reagan needs business support to steer the biggest tax increase in the history of California through the legislature. Such support could be more than lukewarm without elimination of the inventory tax.

The Assembly tax bill, by John G. Veneman, R-Modesto, does have a provision in it for wiping out the inventory tax, and subsidizing local government around $225 million to make up the loss. However, the Veneman bill, which also contains provisions for an income tax withholding system, has been returned to the Assembly committee on revenue and taxation after a Republican attempt to pass it in the lower house wound up in failure.

THUS, A SITUATION which will demand a lot of compromise ensues. Some of the complications are:

Governor Reagan is opposed to a withholding tax.

Business and industry are opposed to the inventory tax.

Democrats want the withholding tax, which business would tolerate if it can junk the inventory tax.

Utilities oppose the proposal for a sales tax on gas and electricity on users other than home-owners, proposed by Reagan as a new source of income.

THESE AND OTHER complications, according to reports, effectively are helping the state continue in a declining business climate.

Let's Stop The Tree Slaughter

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I hasten to agree 100 per cent, with Sally Milligan on the tree slaughter along San Anselmo Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and I feel impelled, along with her, to inquire, first; What good is to be accomplished by widening two or three blocks, while the rest of Sir Francis Drake remains a two lane highway?

But, more important, why in Heaven's name must we sacrifice these beautiful trees, in any event, when we have more than ample space on both sides to provide for four or even six lanes, simply by leaving the trees as a parkway in the middle, the same as many other landscaped centers of four and six lane highways?

There should be a law against unnecessary destruction of natural beauty, particularly in an area of homes where people wish to live simply because of its natural beauty.

Beating Of Dog Is A Sad Thing

Editor, Independent-Journal:

How very sad it is to think a grown man would enter another's yard and so brutally beat his dog. An animal is so defenseless when tied and they are so dependent on us for everything.

Man has been on this earth for thousands of years, but kindness is something he is slow to learn.

Attitude Of The Appointed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

For some time now, I have suspected the attitude of our elected and appointed representatives toward the taxpayer (election time excepted).

I realized how well my suspicions were founded when recently in our neighborhood paper I found a reply to Max Freidman's letters from one of our city planners who not too long ago ran for the office of councilman. His letter was short and to the point — "Nuts" to Max Freidman — one of our biggest taxpayers!

Any comments?

Hard Labor For The Dog Beater

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This man Richard Hassall, this so-called "teacher" who beat . . . a defenseless dog which did him no injury, and who did this act with children as witnesses, should be assigned the hardest labor and the harshest treatment available. He is not fit to go loose in this world, much less teach school children. He is truly insane, and if he goes unpunished, how in the name of God can young people learn that a man can NOT take the law into his own hands. Or can he?

So great is my shocked fury I honestly feel that if I should by chance encounter him I might be sorely tempted.

What Does Your Husband See In Julie Christie? Don't Ask Him!

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that lead only to more trouble:

"If you don't like the way I'm doing my job, you can always get someone else to do it."

"I'm taking a flight today to qualify for my pilot's license. Care to go up with me?"

"Would you mind reaching over and holding the wheel while I light up a cigarette? Don't worry — we're only doing 70."

"Why do you always want to see a film if Julie Christie is in it, George? What has she got that I don't have?"

"Pass me an ear of corn. With this new $650 bridge in my mouth, I feel like I can eat anything."

"I'D SUGGEST you load up on this stock while it's still selling at a buck a share. The hot tip on Wall Street is that the firm is working on a way to make candy bars out of clover. When they get the formula down pat, the stock'll zoom to $100 for sure."

"If you're looking for the best used car on the lot, I'd recommend this one 100 per cent. I know it's in great shape because a little old lady in tennis shoes — she happens to be my own mother — turned it in yesterday for a new model."

"I haven't been in a gym for years, Joe, but let's put on the gloves for a couple of rounds. There's a trick or two I learned in college I'd like to show you."

"My father told me never to play poker in a railroad club car with strangers. But, if you're sure it's just for small stakes, I guess I wouldn't mind sitting in for a few hands."

"Tell me, Mr. Greenbaum, why is it the Israelis have so much trouble getting along with that fellow Nasser? He can't be all that bad, can he?"

"No daughter of mine is going to be seen in public wearing a dress like that. I'd just as soon see you walk out of this house in nothing but your underwear. Wait a minute, honey — take your hand off the doorknob."

"Oh, go ahead and park here. What if we aren't quite 15 feet from the fireplug? Traffic cops don't carry measuring tapes with them, do they?"

"I never bought a mink jacket off a guy on a sidestreet before. Your sister must be really hard up to let it go for only $99. Are you sure it's real mink?"

"My old high school beau — the handsome one with the curly hair — is in town and wants to take me to lunch and tell me about his new divorce. You can join us if you want to, dear, but I know this is one of your busy days at the office."

"I don't know why you want us to try that project now, boss. Remember, when I suggested it myself last year, you were dead set against it?"

"All I can say about the way Junior is behaving is that it must come from your side of the family."

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

BLAME RALPH Mayer, of Portland, Oregon, for this one. A traveler in darkest Africa fell grievously ill, and summoned a witch doctor, who examined him carefully, then presented him with a leather thong. "Bite off an inch of this thong every day," he prescribed, "chew it carefully, and at the end of a week you'll be good as new." When he returned a week later, however, the traveler was sicker than ever. The witch doctor demanded, "How come?" The traveler answered weakly, "The thong is ended, but the malady lingers on."

DEEP IN the Bronx, a bank failed — and its doors were shut to keep out a mob of outraged depositors. One of them mounted a soap box and began screaming, "The electric chair is too good for the crook who runs this bank! They should throw him into Niagara Falls for robbing poor workers of their savings!" A policeman stopped him and asked, "Did you have money in this bank, Brother?" "Listen, officer," replied the orator, "If I had money in this bank, do you think I'd be taking it so lightly?"

Israel's Victory Shows Free World Its Position Solid Now

WASHINGTON— By its own stamina and courage and resolution Israel has made the whole free world its debtor.

Israel by its brave and brilliant defense has not only secured its own survival, but has done much more.

It has brought into being an opportunity upon which a more durable peace in the Middle East can be built.

ISRAEL'S MILITARY success has demonstrated that neither Egypt nor the Arab nations together in one emotional splurge can drive the Jews into the sea or make them disappear. If the Arabs can summon the minimum of sense and realism, they will learn from this painful lesson that the only alternative to repeated self-inflicted defeats is peaceful coexistence with the Israeli state.

But Israel has done more. By demonstrating how feeble and futile the pretensions of Nasser are, Israel has inflicted upon the Soviet Union the most grievous and illusion-shattering diplomatic and cold war reverse since the Berlin airlift and the Cuban missile crisis.

THE SOVIET UNION alone made it possible for Nasser to believe that at last he could launch a massive assault on Israel, blockade its port of Elath in the Gulf of Aqaba, and extinguish its life. For a decade Moscow has been providing the weapons, the economic assistance, and the diplomatic backing which, together, Nasser was confident would enable him either to intimidate or suffocate Israel.

Nasser neither intimidated nor suffocated his neighbor.

To Moscow, he proved an unreliable instrument and a bad investment.

To Nasser, Moscow was only a fair-weather ally since he probably believed that the strong Soviet words would bring strong Soviet support when the going got rough.

IT DIDN'T.

It is probable that the Soviets never intended to do more than provide Egypt with the military hardware and the diplomatic encouragement to see if Nasser could make himself the dictator of the Arab world and the destroyer of the Israeli nation.

For days the Soviets kept blocking any UN call for a ceasefire as long as Nasser was successfully blockading the Gulf of Aqaba, throwing out the UN peace-keeping forces, and mobilizing his armies on the Israeli frontiers.

But the minute Israel fought back and showed that Egypt would not only fail but could be crushed in the attempt, Moscow suddenly decided that a ceasefire would be just right.

It was doubly persuaded that a ceasefire would be just right after Cairo sought to get the Soviets to come to its aid by falsely claiming that the U.S. and Britain were bombing Egypt.

AFTER FIRST opposing any Security Council meeting to deal with the crisis, after arguing that U.N. discussion about how to calm the crisis was designed to inflame it, Moscow finally approved calling for a ceasefire.

The Soviets tried to hold out for a resolution which would have solidified Nasser's blockade of Aqaba. This was averted by the firm United States stand.

All of this has been Moscow's most riskful and reckless cold war venture since sending missiles to Cuba, and Israel made it a costly liability to Russia.

IF THIS EXPERIENCE can persuade Moscow that such ventures do not pay and teach Cairo that Israel is here to stay, then we can begin to lay the foundations for peaceful and mutually productive co-existence in the Middle East.

Russia Threatening A Major Oil Block

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON: Seizing the opening offered by the Middle East fighting, Russia is launching a diplomatic-economic-military drive for the nationalization of U.S. and British oil holdings in this strategic region.

In the past week several hundred Soviet bloc oil technicians have arrived in the United Arab Republic and Syria by air and sea.

Hundreds of other Communist oil engineers are aboard the Russian warships and supply vessels now steaming through the Mediterranean for UAR and Algerian ports.

FINAL DESTINATION of these advance units of the Kremlin's newly organized "oil guard" is reputed to be Kuwait — where U.S. and British companies now produce more than 2.4 million barrels of oil a day with most of it normally going to Europe.

Trained in Russia to operate oil wells, refineries, and pipelines, these Soviet bloc technicians have been offered to Kuwait if and when she goes through with her threat to take over the multi-billion dollar Anglo-American holdings there.

This threat, which is one of the factors influencing the Johnson Administration's neutral stand in the Arab-Israel fighting, was issued last week by Prime Minister Sheikh Jabir al-Ahmed as-Sabah.

BRITISH AND AMERICAN ambassadors were called in by the Nasser-supporting Kuwait official and frankly told that their oil company holdings would be nationalized if either government gave Israel military backing.

The U.S. ambassador was also warned that Kuwait would then suspend all commercial operations and diplomatic relations.

U.S. intelligence sources have warned President Johnson that the Kremlin's oil maneuver is part of an overall plan to try to drive the British and U.S. from the Middle East.

By offering technical help and new markets in Eastern Europe, they point out, the Russians hope to use the growing anti-American sentiments in these Arab nations to encourage their governments to do the job for them.

IN RUSSIAN-BORDERING Iran, American oil companies haven't helped the situation. In recent weeks they rejected a request by the Shah to increase production and his revenues for the development of Iran. This refusal persuaded the pro-U.S. Moslem leader to accept a Kremlin offer to buy Iranian oil for its satellites in Eastern Europe.

With this foot in the door, the Russians are now offering the Shah vast amounts of equipment and hundreds of oil technicians in exchange for the marketing rights in Eastern and Western Europe.

In making their attractive offer, the Russians estimate that by 1975 Eastern Europe will have to import at least 90 million tons of oil annually from non-Communist countries.

SOVIET OIL DIPLOMACY in the Middle East is influential in President Johnson's decision to move cautiously. As pointed out last week by Director Richard Helms, of the Central Intelligence Agency, at a bi-partisan meeting of congressional leaders, the nationalization of Middle East oil could affect the security of Europe and the U.S. far more than the fighting now raging between Israel and the Arab nations.

Let's All Convince Ourselves –Power Poles Are Beautiful

Beauty is a subjective thing. You can argue that there are some universal standards that apply, but that is all you can do — just argue and the argument will continue a long time.

It's all subjective.

THE PURPOSE of this preamble is to introduce this question:

What's wrong with power poles? Who are we to say they are not beautiful? (Actually, that's two questions.)

Now, it will save considerable heartache and debate, if we will all join hands and sing:

POWER POLES are beautiful,
So tall, straight and serene.
Power poles are beautiful,
We love them on the scene.
(To be sung to America, the Beautiful)

As soon as the people over at PG&E and PT&T hear this refrain, they will undoubtedly dissolve in tears of joy. And if we keep right on singing and holding each others' sticky old hands, we too, will eventually be joyful about power poles.

I KEEP TELLING you, beauty is a subjective thing.

I have been singing the "Power Poles are Beautiful" song every morning as I drive to work over White's Hill west of Fairfax. This is where the Marin County Board of Supervisors, without any public debate, ordered a rural street lighting project. Why should they debate something as beautiful as a power pole?

As you come over the hill, you get this grand view of Ross Valley. On clear days, you can see the Bay. It is a splendid vista of green hills, water and open sky. It is only proper that such a view should have power poles in it.

The thirteen poles and wires were ordered as part of a safety project. Not only will the poles provide street light, but they will also give a very effective guard against accidents happening out of bounds of the roadway itself. It will take a very sober driver to get off the road without bumping into at least one power pole.

Poles and wires follow the usual standards of PG&E aesthetics. The wood of the poles is tinted sick-dog green and the bulging insulators grow at the tops like large pustulant surprises. The streamlined lamps and braces, in silver and glass, provide a bold contrast to the soft tones of the wood.

THEY ARE beautiful.

There was some question raised on the project after it started. Should not the Marin County planning staff, assigned to do thesis work on every shed, porch and fence post before installation by private individuals, get a chance to look at the White's Hill power poles?

This was passed off as a silly question. Power poles, after all, are beautiful.

The county public works department also had some second thoughts about the power poles and asked PG&E to stop work in order to find out the cost of putting the wires, at least, underground.

BUT THE PEOPLE over at PG&E, who know a beautiful thing when they see it, went right on putting the poles in the ground and stringing the wires.

This was very wise. Any formal questioning of the power poles could lead into one of those endless arguments.

BEAUTY after all, is subjective, and if there should be any universal standards at all, PG&E sets them.

And So Many Vietnam Hawks Become Doves In The Mideast

WASHINGTON — Last week I wrote an article about my friend Brinkerhoff, a dove on the Vietnam issue, who had become a hawk over the Middle East. Little did I realize that there were many Vietnam hawks who had become doves when the Arab-Israeli crisis started heating up.

I found my friend, Overkill, out in his garage, painting a sign which read "GET THE U.S. OUT OF THE MIDDLE EAST."

"Overkill," I said, "what on earth are you doing?"

"I don't think we should get involved. The Middle East should settle its own problems."

"BUT, OVERKILL," I replied, "The United States has commitments in the Middle East to guard the integrity and freedom of every peace-loving nation. We can't just pull out."

"Why not? We have no business there in the first place."

"How can you say that?" I asked him. "Four Presidents have vowed to protect the rights of all the countries in the area."

"There's nothing on paper," Overkill said. "Besides, the United States can't be the policeman for the world."

"BUT YOU YOURSELF have told me many times, Overkill, that the reason we're in Vietnam is to honor an American commitment to the people of Southeast Asia."

"That's different. The Russians aren't in that one. I think we should only honor commitments where the Russians aren't involved."

"Overkill, that's no way for a hawk to talk. This is eyeball-to-eyeball stuff and you should rejoice that we've got another opportunity to stare down the Soviets."

"Yeh, and what happens if one of their destroyers bumps one of our destroyers?"

"Then we have no choice but to bump back."

Overkill broke into a cold sweat. "I'm scared."

I TRIED TO COMFORT him. "It won't happen, Overkill. The Soviets don't want a war in the Middle East any more than we do. The real danger in the Middle East is if we showed the Russians we had no intention of honoring our commitment in that area; they would interpret it as a sign of weakness."

"I disagree with you. They'd think more of us if we pulled out. We're embarrassing the Soviet Union by being there."

"I wish I could agree with you, Overkill, but Secretary of State Dean Rusk has said over and over again that the United States cannot permit naked aggression to take place and just stand by."

"He was talking about Vietnam, not the Middle East."

"WELL, HE PROBABLY meant the Middle East, too. You can't expect him to be too specific."

"I don't care what you say. I'm still going to picket the White House."

"But, Overkill, if you picket the White House you will be giving aid and comfort to the enemy because they'll interpret it as a sign that this country is divided on its Middle East policy."

"I've got as much right to dissent as the next fellow, and I don't care what the enemy thinks. I may even burn my Gulf credit card in Central Park."

I was horrified. "Overkill, you wouldn't do that!"

"WHY NOT? I'D rather go to jail than to Saudi Arabia."

Missed Court, Faces Warrant

Bench warrant for arrest of John C. Benguidez, 32, was issued in Marin Municipal Court Friday following his failure to appear for plea entry on a burglary charge.

Bail of $3,000 was forfeited and new bail set at $5,500.

Benguidez and Edward F. Ulibarri, 32, both of San Francisco, are accused of burgling Oxford Shop at Northgate Shopping Center May 24. Ulibarri was bound over to Marin Superior Court following his preliminary hearing June 2.

Am I Appealing?

Houses, like women, are appealing to different people. Some like them large; others like them brightly painted; others like them more subdued. Some like a large front yard; others a large back yard. Everyone looks for an attractive one. My statistics are:

★ 3 bedrooms
★ 2 baths
★ Carpets
★ Drapes
★ Patio
★ Double garage
★ Large fen. back yard

Do I appeal to you? You won't be sure until you look at me. Call 892-3215 or come by 28 PLAZA DEMIRA. You'll be glad you did. I'm a friendly one!

TELEVISION REVIEW

U.N. Debate And A New Demension

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—I got home past two o'clock Saturday morning after giving another easterner the tour, and was in the mood for a George Brent movie to put me to sleep. So I turned on the television, and what should I see but the distinguished representative of the United States, right there in the middle of the night, at odds with the distinguished representative of the Soviet Union.

You can always tell in these broadcasts of the United Nations how close the participants are to sword's edge with each other, by listening to how free they are with the word "distinguished." For example, all last week the representatives of the United States and Russia invariably referred to each other as distinguished, so the viewer was able to sleep fairly comfortably at night. On the other hand, the representatives of Israel and its Arab foes wasted no such flattering adjectives on each other.

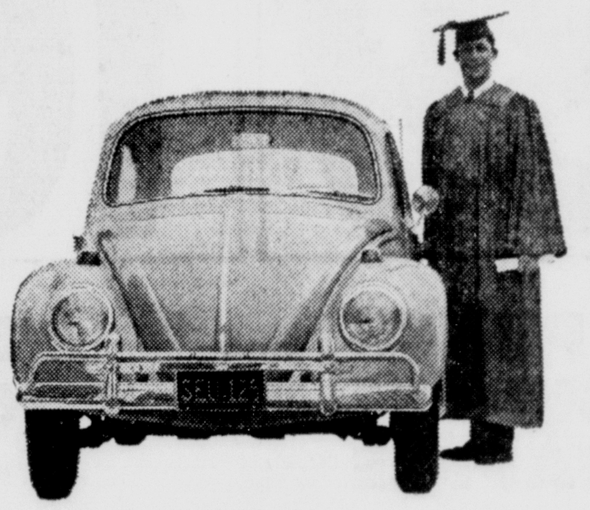
Anyway, as I started to say, there we all were in the wee hours Saturday watching this extraordinary live United Nations debate—and for those whose minds were in reasonable working shape at such an awful time, there were some absolutely incredible aspects to the whole affair in terms of video's future effects on diplomacy.

During the debate, which was of course the result of an emergency meeting, the key questions focused on the claims of the opposing Middle East forces that each was currently the victim of acts of aggression by the other. Some claims were denied outright, and the United States, for instance, wanted to withhold United Nations action until more specific information was available to substantiate the charges one way or the other.

Now all of this sounds fairly reminiscent of past diplomatic haggling—until one suddenly realizes we are living in the age of instant global television communication, when facts are supposed to be available on a virtual instant basis. We have satellites, we will soon have almost immediate reports via television from the areas of battling in Vietnam, and so forth.

Channel Chuckles

"Your channel selector's worn out. You've been switching back and forth between Johnny Carson and Joey Bishop. Right?"



Give him something to look for a job in.

You've given him an education. And he's made the grade. Now he has to face the world. Is he ready? You can give him one small, dependable thing to help push him along life's road (or freeway): a Volkswagen. A VW is great for following up job leads. It averages 29 mpg. Probably will never need oil between changes. Guaranteed not to heat up...or use anti-freeze. And its tires will go 35,000 miles. Even insurance costs less. A VW is the perfect graduation gift. Its economy features go on and on even after he has a job. So, give the kid a VW. He'll love it, and you'll feel better knowing there's a dependable VW carrying him to his place in the sun.

Crash Survivor Seeks $100,000

A Santa Rosa woman is seeking $100,000 damages in a traffic collision April 3 in which a Novato resident was killed.

Mrs. Ellen Stillwell, 26, alleges in her Marin Superior Court suit that negligent driving by Donald Erickson Barnholdt, 42, of 2136 Center Road, Novato, resulted in the pickup truck-car collision on Highway 101 near Novato.

Mrs. Stillwell, who suffered fractures of both ankles, was a passenger in a car driven by Samuel Jerry Montagno, 38, Santa Rosa. A passenger in the Barnholdt vehicle, Mrs. Eunice Marie Dougherty, 57, of 7060 Redwood Highway, was killed.

KQED Goes Over Its Fund Goal

SAN FRANCSCO (UPI)—Educational television station KQED has collected nearly $280,000 in money and pledges during its annual six-day auction.

The auction ended yesterday. The goal was $250,000.

Donated merchandise was auctioned off to viewers. The proceeds, expected to be matched by a Ford Foundation grant, will go for support of the noncommercial station.
